Tempus Fugit School Again

Time rolled on apace! With the fleetness of Atalanta the summer days slipped by and again we turned our steps to our old High School, once more to invade her halls, fill her classrooms, and uphold her traditions.

With eagerness 155 students bounded up the steps. They traversed the corridors and finally installed themselves in the assembly, prepared for a year of unceasing activity. Sight of the familiar rooms "got us," and we felt a thrill of gladness when the first bell rang. All arrived with unlimited amounts of pep and left difficulties of past years far in the background.

We have lost old members, new ones have come in, and the total enrollment remains much the same. From the annals of the office we learned there are 33 Seniors, 33 Juniors, 30 Sophomores, 36 Ninth year students, and 25 Eight year students.

We have three new instructors in the High School this year—all extremely capable persons. Mr. Ehlers is the new coach and director of Athletics. Mr. Ehlers is a graduate of Concordia College at Moorhead, Minnesota. While in college he took an active part in all forms of athletics. He is teaching Chemistry, General Science, Agriculture and Bookkeeping.

Miss Leona Edwards, teacher of Latin, Social Science, History, and Physical Training, is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and is splendidly prepared for her work.

Miss Julia Larson, a graduate of the South Dakota State College, at Brookings, is principal of Junior Hi School. She has had several years of successful experience in rural and grade schools. Miss Larson teaches Mathematics.

The High School is glad to welcome these teachers and hope they will find their work interesting and enjoyable.

With this splendid enrollment and fine staff of teachers, the Ellendale High School will certainly achieve great things this year. Several school projects have been begun, and the interest and enthusiasm shown promises a year of fine work.

HERE'S HOW!

Class of '29 we miss you—In the glow which followed your brilliant departure after a year of stupendous achievements we wander about adjusting ourselves to life without you, and fitting our inadequate persons to follow in your footsteps.

You were industrious, loyal, true-blue students. Never a task too difficult. Never a rule too hard. Your splendid ideals and aspirations we are proud to uphold. May success be with you.

Several members have joined the ranks of school teachers: Helga Ojala is teaching at Fredonia, N. Dak.; Ruth Collett, at Linton, N. Dak.; Ethel Stucker, at Whitestone No. 3, Merricourt, N. Dak.; Ronald Carr, at Hamburg; Janet Keith, at Kulm.

We now list Harry Heine as a Fargoan while he studies at the A. C. Harold Gerber is attending the Electrical School at Milwaukee, Wis. Richard Tiegs is furthering his education at Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Indiana.

Louella Elliott, Evelyn Brown, Carrie Nelson, and Gladys Heimke are remaining at home this fall. Eldon Jury is working on his father's farm near Fullerton, N. Dak.

Edna Mallon Hatfield lives south of town. Milton Smith is working at the Jorgensen Tailor Shop.

Those attending college at Ellendale are: Marie Furan, Nan Wheelihan, Cravella Jenkins, Harold Meachen, Zachary Taylor, Mabel Whelan, Vivian Graham, Edna Heine, Magda Hermansen, and Stella Bergstreser.

MR. CASSELS' TALK ON THE CONSTITUTION

The entire assembly was very much pleased when Mr. Cassels, a well-known citizen of our community, spoke to us on the Constitution of the United States. Mr. Cassels made his talk especially interesting by telling us something of the men who were the originators of the Constitution, a Constitution under which five generations of Americans have lived. "These men are to be admired," said Mr. Cassels, "because they knew the clear and deliberate will of the people. These men provided an effective government that is the best attempt made to reconcile the forces of liberty and authority."

We all enjoyed this talk, and we look forward to more like it.

E. H. S. Gridders Battle in Rain

In the annual hard-fought game with our old rivals, Oakes, the Cardinals were defeated by a score of 6-7. This may have been due to the fact that a constant drizzling rain during the previous two days, had soaked the field so that it was impossible for the players to show their best ability. Also during the game there was a cold wind and a constant soaking rain. The players were numb with cold and found it difficult to handle the ball. In spite of this it was a very good game, and fumbling was not so frequent as might have been expected.

During the game neither team showed any decided advantage. Early in the first quarter Ellendale punted on fourth down, sending the ball to the opponent's two yard line. Oakes attempted a punt on first down. Ackert got through and blocked the punt, and Ellendale gained possession of the ball beyond the end zone. The referee awarded a touchdown to Ellendale.

Oakes scored in the second quarter as the result of a series of line smash-es. Their heavy line aided them considerably, especially when the wet field is considered. The extra point was also earned on a play through the line.

For the rest of the game the teams see-sawed back and forth on the field. Both teams employed old line football. Very few passes or even end-runs were attempted.

The starting line-up was as follows:

ELLENDALE	OAKES
H. Witte	Q. B. Sanders
Taylor	L. H. C. Dickinson
Brennan	R. H. Solsrud
Schmierer	F. B. Tobias
Thompson	L. E. R. Tobin
Chute	R. E. Lowe
Ackert	L. T. Arkenrack
Hull	L. G. E. Tobin
Wenkstern	C. Arkenbrack
Graham	R. G. Nickols
E. Witte	R. T. Swanson

Conclusion of Chemistry class, Oct. 17: "One Atom, indivisible, caused misery and torture for us all."

TRUST THYSELF

When Emerson gave us the thought, "Trust thyself," he did a wonderful thing. Incorporate that sentence into yourselves. Have faith in your own abilities. If a new or difficult task is imposed upon, you call out your latent talents and determine within yourself that you shall do that thing with no failure. Have confidence in the powers that have been given you and "Trust thyself."

E. H. S. ORGANIZES AN ADVISORY COUNCIL

A new plan has been adopted this year by our High School, that of having an advisory council which is to be made up of the three officers of each class. This body of nine will act as an advisory group for the entire senior high. At a recent meeting they nominated candidates for the Cardinal staff. The names of these candidates were then presented to the assembly to be voted on. This saved much time. At another meeting plans for a high school party were discussed. We all think an advisory council made up of students themselves is a great idea, and so far it seems to be of splendid assistance.

QUESTIONNAIRES AND WORK SCHEDULES

This year each student was given a questionnaire upon enrolling in high school. This he filled out and signed. He then presented it to his parents for approval and signature. By signing the contract he signified his willingness to obey the rules of the school and to perform his work in a creditable manner. A work schedule has been prepared by each student. This he will follow throughout the year to prevent waste of time.

Words are like leaves; and where they most abound much fruit of sense beneath is seldom found.—Pope.

Wasn't it funny the way the bells rang every few minutes last Thursday afternoon? We couldn't study—and the teachers were so annoyed. We wish it would happen again. We do.

THE HONOR SOCIETY

On Friday, Sept. 13 the local chapter of the Keystone Honor society gave a program in Senior Hi.

The president, Marie Furan, gave a splendid talk on the principles and standards of the society. Cravella Jenkins with her usual originality enthusiastically outlined a project which the society might undertake, and Nan Wheelihan spoke as only Nan can speak on the honor student's relation to the High School after leaving school.

The speakers were so enthusiastic and so thoroughly reflected the true spirit of the Keystone Society that the program will certainly serve as an incentive to better scholarship, leadership, service, and development of character—the principles of the society.

The members look forward to an active year and plan to undertake a definite project. The Charter has been obtained and a suitable frame was selected by a committee consisting of Marie Furan, chairman, Cravella Jenkins, and Edna Layer.

"Truth will come to light; gum cannot be hidden long."

BOY SCOUTS

The following are active Scouts at the present time: Irvin Layer, Gaylord Boom, Floyd Ackert, George Dawes, Clarence DuRand, Willis Brown, Donald Wallis, Clifford DuRand, John Shannon, Raymond Kuni, William Wenkstern, Hubert Ojala. The following boys are Patrol Leaders: Eagles—Irvin Layer; Owls—George Dawes; Antelope—Donald Wallis.

Lavern Penn and Roswell Hull are well along with their Tenderfoot tests. Other candidates are: Raymond Struck, Harold Kracke, William Griffith, Robert Christianson, Carroll Johnson, Rudolph Ojala, and Ernest Maunu.

Scout meeting will be held Thursday, Oct. 17.

Heard in Gym.

Panzy (ready for a toss up in basketball): "Into which basket shall I toss the ball?"

JUNIOR PLAY IS BEING CHOSEN

The Junior play committee, consisting of Helen Maercklein, Florence Hermansen, and Gordon Graham have been busy selecting a class play. Four plays, "Ducks," "Hold That Line, Jimmy," "Clarence Decides," and "Step On it Stan" have been read thus far. Other plays have been ordered to give the committee a wider range of choice.

Have you handed in your "Cardinal" subscription?

WISH I WERE BACK

One day as I was walking down the street

I chanced to meet an old friend of mine.

I smiled and shook his hand and said, "Gee, Bob, you're looking fine."

"Am I?" He smiled his boyish smile.

"Yes, but you're different in lots of ways;

You don't look quite like you used to—Way back in High School days."

"Oh, lots of things have happened since then—

But let's talk about those good old times.

Do you remember when You were on the football team, And I was playing too?"

"Yes, and remember the fight we had, And how you beat me black and blue? What good pals we were after that?"

"Yes, I remember that, but do you recall

The big game of the year, And what sport training was that fall?"

"Gee, I wish I were back again."

"Yup, I'd give the world to go back And jump a few hurdles,

Or pad around the old race track."

"S'funny how we grumbled then, And wished we didn't have to go another day.

We used to loaf on the job a lot, too, But I wish I were back, now that I'm away."

—Marion Brown.

HAVE YOU NOTICED

Catharine's rapid assembly gait.

Coach's initials are O. K.

Gene and Florence are as thick as ever.

That dumb appealing look of the Sophomores.

The superior and intelligent glare of the Seniors.

Walt and Elva are almost as bad as Gene and Florence.

That exasperating answer: "Oh, yes." Miss Onsrud still expedites matters.

Miss Edwards' "I mean that—"

The teachers still give exams.

Nothing has been said about gum chewing.

We have not yet sung "MAGGIE." Russell's frantic search for his Chemistry text.

The calendar on the front wall.

The silence of the gym classes.

The pansy in Mr. Ingvalson's button-hole.

Ivan really "ain't" so quiet.

Harry's diamond.

Don't miss the Football game with Edgeley on Friday, Oct. 25.

In Geometry Class.

Teacher: "Gwendolyn, will you go to the board and explain this theorem?"

Gwendolyn: "Well, my uncle could of done it—etc., etc."

CATHARINE BARTA IS HONOR GUEST

On Tuesday evening, October 15, Miss Catharine Barta was the honor guest at a six-thirty o'clock birthday dinner party to celebrate her seventeenth birthday. A delicious dinner was served by her mother, Mrs. Thos. Barta and by her aunt, Miss Clara Flemington, at the Flemington home. The table was set for thirteen and was prettily decorated in orange and black, to give the effect of Halloween. After dinner the guests enjoyed a show at the Lyric Theatre. Those present to enjoy this occasion were the Misses Cravella Jenkins, Marie Furan, Nan Wheelihan, Edna and Ruth Layer, Helen Rhoda, Marguerite Neuman, Florence Pederson, Wilma Stearns, Frances Carpenter, Jennie Graham, and Marian Lewis.

LENORA GREEN HONORED AT FAREWELL PARTY

A farewell party was given for Lenora Green by the other girls in her class last Friday evening. The members met at the high school. From there they proceeded to the Crandell home where Lenora had been a supper guest that evening, and pleasantly surprised her. In spite of the rain, a large group were present and a most enjoyable time was had. Each girl did her part to entertain. There were characters ranging from a tin peddler to a radio announcer. After the social hour Helen Dawes presented Miss Lenora with a string of pearls as a remembrance from her classmates. Much credit is due to the Refreshment Committee who served a delicious lunch.

A LITTLE BOY'S IDEA OF GEESE

Little boys with vivid imaginations occasionally unroll some good stuff in analyzing the different animals, both wild and domestic. A little fellow outdid himself on "Geese" in the following essay:

"Geese is a low heavy set bird which is mostly meat and feathers. His head sits on one side and he sits on the other. Geese can't sing much on account of the dampness of the moisture. He ain't got no between—his toes and his got a little baloon in his stummuk that keeps him from sinking. Some geese when they gets too big has curls on their tails and is called Ganders. Ganders don't half to sit and hatch but just eat and loaf, and go swimmin'. If I was a goose, I'd rather be a gander."

Have you subscribed for the "Cardinal?"

STROLLING MINSTRELS STILL GLADDEN WORLD

Slightly before noon on the third day of last week a lone minstrel, lean and lank and brown-eyed, strayed into our spacious halls and inquired for the principal. The principal met him in the corridor, prim and formal. He bowed graciously and smiled and said in a languorous Southern drawl, "If you-all would like me to play for you, I'll play some tunes. I play a French harp." He smiled again as if the French harp were the finest instrument in the world. Without further ceremony he entered the Assembly room and thrilled us with a series of haunting airs upon his most melodious instrument. The selections were very much in keeping with the fantastic garb and the manner of the musician. We all listened spell-bound to the bewitching notes which floated forth. The voluminous applause which greeted the last dying notes of each selection gave proof of the fact that we found it thoroughly enjoyable. With a last bow and a friendly "good-bye" our entertainer departed as mysteriously as he had entered.

There are few who go about with no object but to give pleasure. Our minstrel had no other motive.

BIOLOGY

Little bugs, crawly insects, and all pests of mankind become intensely interesting to us when we study by microscopic views the marvelous mechanisms which are their bodies. The class has observed the life of many common insects.

"OH, YES"

Boost for the "Cardinal."

Jimmy Mc.—"When was the eighth anniversary of the Lexington Battle celebrated?"

Miss E.: "You wanted a date, did you?"

Jimmy: "Er-r-I've got a date."

SOMETHING NEW FOR US: SOCCER

"Hey! Stop that ball! Give 'er a kick! Atta gal! One score."

That's soccer. With much enthusiasm the girls have begun soccer practice and are unanimous in declaring the new game first rate, or "quite it." Casualties of the first week were heavy, but now the girls have learned expertly to dodge vicious kicks aimed at the ball, and often finish a game with a smile.

Interesting.

The History class is indebted to Floyd for the knowledge that much of the Revolutionary war was carried on in the English Channel.

Clifford S.: "How did the game come out?"

Tommy F.: "Six to six."

Clifford S.: "Who beat?"

That's the Spirit!

When Sophomores receive a failing grade, they don't sink into the slough of despondency and remain there. They rise above it by attending night class, and working HARD until they make their grades. They believe in the old saying, "Try once, and if you don't succeed, try again." And we admire them for it.

INITIATION

Since the separation of the Senior and the Junior High School it was thought unfair to initiate the Freshmen, the highest class in Junior Hi. Therefore the present Senior class very generously decided to forego the pleasure of initiating the Freshmen.

But being very bloodthirsty and anxious for revenge, they also decided that someone must suffer. It fell to the Sophomores, who held the lowest rank in Senior Hi, to be the victims. Accordingly on Friday, October 11, the Sophs were given a mild initiation, usual implements of terror being used, and then sent to the shelter of their happy homes after having been commanded to grow up.

Thus a new tradition will take the place of the old one in regard to initiation.

SOPHOMORE REACTION

BEFORE—We want initiation. We want it and "nothing else but." We are ready----

The Honorable Peter (Clarence) DuRand says we need "one good reception" and anyway we missed out last year. Caroline suggests just leaving it to the Seniors; they may be able to give us plenty. Several of the Sophs say if the Seniors get as much kick out of it as we they are welcome to that and more.

AFTER—Silence is golden.

JUNIOR REACTION

All of the Juniors present at the Senior-Sophomore party Friday night reported an enjoyable time even though our part was not an active one. We were a happy medium as we neither inflicted or received the punishment.

LATIN II

Like the bards of old the Latin students recently raised their voices in the singing of Latin songs. They declare it was an expression of intense feeling and believe that in the course of time these expressions may become famed musical compositions.

ROOTER KINGS

Olin Minton and Howard Townsend, last year's rooter kings in Junior Hi, this year lead the cheers of Senior Hi. Their snap and pep make them fine cheer leaders.

Monica Wentzel with her clear soprano voice has been selected song leader.

SENIOR RINGS

Class rings are now the popular topic of Senior discussion. We hope to have our orders in very soon. Edna Layer, Jennie Graham, and Florence Pederson are acting as a committee to take care of this matter.

FOOTBALL

At the beginning of the Football season we found only a few lettermen reporting for service. They were Capt. Schmierer, Eugene Chute, Gerald Brennan, Francis Ackert, and Andrew Hull. Others reporting for practice were: Harry Witte, Edward Taylor, Verrill Fischer, James McDonald, Russell Wenkstern, Clifford Skoglund, Elmer Witte, George Dawes, Lloyd Salmon, Maynard Oliason, Ivan Thompson, Wayne Hill, Harry Fjeld, Willis Brown, Lowell Workman, Irwin Layer. Those lost to the squad this year are: Milton Smith, Harold Gerber, Richard Tiegs, Ronald Carr, Eldon Jury, Harry Heine, and Albert Dietz.

Ellendale 14; Milnor 7

After two weeks of hard workouts under our new Coach, Mr. Ehlers, we met and defeated the Milnor eleven by a score of 14 to 7. Ellendale made the first touchdown in the first two plays. The try for point was good. The next touchdown was made in the third quarter when Schmierer pushed the ball across on an off tackle play. The kick for the extra point was successful. The Milnor team didn't come within scoring territory until the third quarter, when they made their touchdown. The line-up for the home team was as follows:

R. E.—Chute.
R. G.—McDonald.
R. T.—Fischer.
C.—Wenkstern.
L. G.—Hull.
L. T.—Graham.
L. E.—Thompson.
G.—Witte.
L. H.—Hill.
R. H.—Taylor.
F.—Schmierer.

Ellendale 0; Wishek 6

The following week, the Cardinals motored to Wishek over muddy roads and were defeated by the Wishek eleven. The Cardinals were in scoring distance twice, but because of fumbles were unable to push the ball over. The Wishek team scored when they completed a long pass. The line-up for Ellendale was:

R. E.—Chute.
R. T.—Fischer.
R. G.—McDonald.
C.—Wenkstern.
L. G.—Hull.
L. T.—Graham.
L. E.—Thompson.
L. H.—Hill.
R. H.—Taylor.
Q.—Witte.
F.—Schmierer.

Ellendale 6; LaMoure 6

On October 4 the Cardinals motored to LaMoure to hold them to a 6 to 6 tie. Capt. Schmierer was the chief ground gainer, making close to 175 yards during the game. Our line was out-weighted considerably, but the "Fighting Spirit" of the Cardinals held the line and enabled Captain Schmierer to make long gains, one of which scored for the Cardinals in the second quarter. The try for point failed. Several other times the Cardinals came close to scoring and on one of these instances the Cardinals were within a few inches of scoring.

LaMoure's heavy team did not score until the last few minutes when an Ellendale punt was blocked close to the home squad's line and LaMoure recovered the ball within a few feet of the goal line and put it over the line. This try for point failed.

ELLENDALE	LaMOURE

Frederick 7, Ellendale 6

Schmierer F. H. Winslow
On Friday last, the Cardinal warriors invaded our neighboring state to the south, meeting the strong Frederick aggregation. After a series of line plunges Schmierer carried the ball over for a touchdown. The Cardinals were unsuccessful in earning the extra tally. There was no scoring in the second and third quarters. In the last quarter Frederick opened up with a series of forward passes and got the ball to Ellendale's five yard line. A couple of line plunges then carried the ball over the line. The extra point was also gained. Schmierer, as usual, was the outstanding performer for Ellendale.

"HOLD THAT LINE, JIMMIE!" THE CARDINAL

Issued Periodically by the Students of Ellendale High School

Volume 3

Ellendale, North Dakota, November 21, 1929

Number 2

JUNIOR PLAYMAKERS AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

How is this for a title? "Hold That Line, Jimmie!" Doesn't it suggest to you punch and pep, snappy dialogue, lots of action and exuberance of youth? We hope it does, for it is the title of the Junior class play, to be presented in the High school assembly, Dec. 6 and 7.

The play portrays to us modern college life in a privately owned college. The young president of the college, Jimmip Graham, is very bashful and self conscious, and his friend, Jerry Travis, tries to cure him of this fault. Jasper Allen, a scheming person, tries to throw the young president out. He swindles him out of his holdings in the college through his niece, Shirley Allen, who is led to believe that at one time this young man greatly wronged her father. However, the two young people fall violently in love with each other, each believing to have hurt the other beyond forgiveness.

Through the efforts of Marjie, Flossie and Chubby who are all students at the college, Jasper Allen is defeated, and Jimmy Graham retains the office of president. Arabella, the colored cook, lends a hand in every situation and believes herself to be a great help to the institute, which she proves to be.

As a fitting end for the play, all difficulties are cleared up between Jimmy Graham and Shirley Allen, and thus the play comes to an end.

Every member of the Junior class was requested to try out for the play and the following cast was selected:

Jimmy Graham --- Gordon Graham.
Jerry Travis --- Andrew Hull
Jasper Allen --- Wayne Hill.
Chubby Conners --- Edward Taylor
Marjie --- Florence Hermansen
Flossie --- Helen Maercklein
Arabella Washington --- Marion Brown
Shirley Allen --- Marie Kirschner

Watch for the Date of the Junior play. Don't miss it!

Russell, (after cleaning off his desk in Chemistry laboratory): 'Mr. Ehlers, will you put your O. K. on this desk?'

L'ENVOI

On Saturday, October 25, the John Layer family departed for Lansing, Ia., near where they will make their future home.

Their decision to leave Dickey county came very suddenly, and the high school still can hardly realize that the three Layer girls, Edna, Ruth and May Belle, are no longer among our numbers.

Edna and Ruth were both Seniors, May Belle was a Junior. Edna and Ruth entered the ranks of E. H. S. in the year 1925, and May Belle not until 1927. During the few years that they spent with us they established records that will not easily be forgotten.

Edna was president of the Senior Class and the very talented and able Editor-in-chief of the "Cardinal."

Their going leaves a distinct sense of loss and a feeling of regret, but we sincerely hope they will be successful and happy in their new home.

EDUCATION WEEK

In the United States, the second week in November is observed as Education week. For the past ten years or more the State Normal and the Ellendale High school have observed this occasion together.

The following program was given:

Obligations of the American Citizen
----- Genevieve Carrs (H. S.)
Education for a Worthy Use of Leisure
----- William Combellick (N. I.)
Iris, song ----- by Wolfs
Invictus, song, by Huhn -----

Watch the date, December 6 and 7.

FACULTY BANQUETS FOOTBALL BOYS

A banquet given by the members of the faculty of the Junior and Senior high on Friday, Nov. 1, fittingly brought to a close the E. H. S. Grid season. The members of the football squad, did full justice to the dinner. Rumors afloat stated that Professor Ingvalson refused to eat breakfast, dinner or supper at home so as to be better able to take advantage of the banquet. And do we blame him? Not much. And if we overworked the ladies serving us we are sorry. They ought to know better than to put on a feed like that before a football player.

After the third helping to everything a short business meeting was held. A captain for next year was elected, this honor falling to Francis Ackert, and a good and worthy captain he should be. Coach Ehlers briefly reviewed the season, and Professor Ingvalson spoke on "Football and the Player." After this each graduating member was called upon to say a few words. After the cheering had ceased we concluded that very fine speeches had been made.

Following the banquet an all High school party was given. We are convinced that the faculty are fine entertainers, and may we have more parties like this one.

After lunch the lettermen received their E's. Fourteen in number, the pride and glory of Ellendale High school (if we do say it ourselves,) lined up and received their letters. Following the presentation we raised the roof with a few good old High school songs. This ended the party.

The football squad wish to thank the faculty very much for the banquet and party that were given to end the football season of 1929.

COURAGE

Nothing great is lightly won;
Nothing won is lost.
Every good deed nobly done;
Will repay the cost.

We all hope that the bell Miss Edwards has will continue to ring until she teaches us to pay attention in class.

OUR ATTITUDE TOWARD EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

What should our attitude toward extra curricular activities be? Should we think of them as activities which can be left undone or activities that some one else can do? No; these activities, which may seem to be of minor importance, are just another means by which we can mold our character. The outside activities also give us recreation. They tend to be a very pleasant diversion from our school work.

Our attitude on the football field this year has been very good. All the home games were well attended by the student body.

The basketball season is close at hand. The girls are usually the best supporters at these games, or at least they seem to be. Perhaps they are not, though; if not, come on boys and show us that they aren't. When you come to the games join in and help the girls cheer for the team. Let us all know that we are loyal to our activities.

The student body as a whole this year have shown a very much better attitude toward the publishing of the "Cardinal" than has ever been shown. Keep it up Studes!

We need to show our fine attitude not only toward our sports, but also toward all of our literary activities such as the Delphian and Athenian Societies, The Girl Reserves, The Hi-Y Club, the Camp Fire and the Boy Scouts. We should make these activities the best possible. This can be done only by your loyal support of them! Do not depend upon someone else to take your part. They will never do it. Take it yourself. You can do your work better than anyone else can.

Our most important activity at this time is the Junior Class play, "Hold That Line, Jimmie!" Let us make it the best project of the season by the entire student body's getting behind it and boosting it.

Boost, boost, work and boost; never slough, never knock.

Has your "Cardinal" been paid for?

HI-Y CLUB ORGANIZED

On Wednesday, November 5, the Hi-Y club was organized. All boys that were interested in the organization were invited to attend the meeting. The object and the purpose of the club was given by Harry Witte, former secretary and treasurer. All those who wished to join the club handed in their names and were then excused as the election of this year's officers was to take place. Eleven of last year's members were present. These members elected the following officers: President, Gordon Graham; vice-president, Harry Witte; secretary, Eugene Chute; treasurer, Walter Schmierer.

At the next meeting they will vote upon the names of those that wish to join.

Ivan Thompson, Maynard Oliason, Robert Waddell, Roscoe Ladd, Lloyd Salmen, Clifford Skoglund, Leo Austin, Gerald Brennan, Francis Ackert, Clarence DuRand, Robert Rowe, Lowell Workman, Elmer Witte, John Shannon, Irwin Layer, Carl Webster, and Olin Minton. The above names have been handed in.

The present membership of the club is as follows: Gordon Graham, Harry Witte, Eugene Chute, Wayne Hill, Jimmy Beggs, Edward Taylor, Donovan Lewis, Russell Wenkstern, Myron Jury, and Andrew Hull. The program committee, appointed by the president, consists of Harry Witte chairman, Jimmy Beggs, and Edward Taylor.

Make it one of your regular habits to look at and think of the good points of your friends and associates, as well as about your enemies and environment. If you have no good word for your neighbors you had better keep still about them; as their sins and shortcomings will find them out in due time, without any help from you.

Former Scouts Honored

"Once a Scout, always a Scout!" This is the policy of this great boys' organization. In keeping with this slogan, eight former members of Ellendale Troop, No. 32, were presented with Service Certificates, at the regular Troop meeting held on Wednesday, October 30. The certificate is presented to such former scouts who have been honorably discharged from the organization and who are willing to promise that they will try to abide by the Scout Oath and Laws.

The certificate was given to the following: Wayne Hill, Gordon Graham, Edward Taylor, Donovan Lewis, Harry Witte, Elmer Witte, and Francis Ackert. A few other boys are entitled to the certificate, but these could not be present at this time.

About 30 boys are attending the Scout meetings. Twelve of these are

WAY UP HERE

The eighth grade class has met up here,

But we guess 'tis no need to fear,
We all know how much the ninth graders are,

Yet we'll soon catch up and be as far.

If we expect to succeed in our studies each day,

There is a right thing to do, but this is not play.

We must have ambition to study and try,

For they count up as do a lie.

We all have new teachers most every year,

But for them we have the least bit of fear,

For when we study and do all our work.

How can they say that we have shirked.

Yet for all of these duties that are to be done,

We cannot say that we do not have fun,

With marching and laughter and all that I say,

We know we'll grow happier day by day.

We feel with great kindness to our teachers and friends,

And we hope this great kindness shall never end,

For if your feeling of friendship is strong,

Our friendship is everlasting and long.

Evelyn P. Bye,

Eighth Grade.

"Two Years Before The Mast"

"Two Years Before The Mast" is a story of a boy who is taken aboard a ship as a sailor. He tells of the hardships he has to encounter. He learns that being a sailor doesn't mean loafing, especially under the command of a harsh master. It's a good book.—V. L.

Mumps List!

Girls, this is the wrong time to be having the mumps. Of course we all know this is a good way to have a fourteen day vacation, but let's not have it happen again because your absence makes us resentful.

Those that are out or have been absent with the mumps are: Doris and Beulah Bye, Fern and Laverne Gayman, Gladys Witte, Caroline Newman, and Frances Linnel.

"Hold That Line, Jimmie!"

candidates who will soon complete their Tenderfoot tests. Military or marching drill has been a part of our meetings of late, administered by our assistant Scoutmaster, Mr. Ehlers.

ALUMNAE MEMBERS GIVEHALLOWEEN PARTY

The Misses Stella Bergstreser and Magda Hermansen entertained a number of friends at a Halloween party on Thursday evening, Oct. 31, at the Bergstreser home. Stella contributed much toward the entertainment of the guests by playing and singing for them, and Nan Wheelihan by her story telling. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing whist and visiting, after which a delicious lunch was served. Cravella Jenkins won the grand prize and Mary McGivern was given the consolation. Those present other than those already named were the Misses Marie Furan, Ella Davis, Anna Hovey, Marion Lewis, and Jennie Graham.

A Biff- Baffling Party

The Misses Marie Kirschner and Elva Jorgensen were joint hostesses to a number of friends at the latter's home on Saturday evening, October 26. The evening was spent in playing cards and dancing. The friends who enjoyed the evening were: Opal Thompson, Florence Hermansen, Frances Linnell, Helen Maercklein, Thelma Collett, Gordon Graham, Edward Taylor, Walter Schmierer, Ivan Thompson, Gerald Brennan, Harry Witte, and Wayne Hill.

The Misses Panzy Gallagher and Frances Carpenter entertained on their seventeenth birthday, Monday, October 28, a number of friends at the home of the latter.

The girls were presented with many nice gifts. The evening was spent in playing cards, dancing, and social conversation. A delicious lunch was served near midnight. Those present were the Misses Marion Lewis, Jennie Graham, Ella Hansen, Florence Pederson, Leona Edwards, Lucille Von Eshen, Monica Wentzel, Olive Phillips, Marjorie Holsinger, Wilma Stearns, and Catharine Barta.

Eighth Grade Initiation

The eighth graders suffered a light initiation from the "mighty Freshies" Friday evening, October 18.

A very effective mock wedding was presented with Myrtle Woodfork as bride and Everett Phillips as groom. Many flower girls carried the beautiful bouquets of onions, carrots, beets, celery, and potatoes. The bride was attired in a white cheesecloth gown, and the groom wore rubber hip boots and carried a large gun. The ceremony was preformed by the Rev. William Wenkstern.

Each member of the eighth grade had to contribute his best over Station DUMB operating on 150% motorcycles.

After the performance all enjoyed refreshments consisting of apple cider and pumpkin pie.

GIRL RESERVES RE-ORGANIZED

On Wednesday, Oct. 23, the Girl Reserves had their first regular meeting. This discussion which had been begun at the close of the school year last spring, "Our Relationship with the Home," was finished. The new topic was "Friends and Friendships." Although we did not complete the discussion we came to the conclusion, that if each of us had but one true friend we should be happy, indeed.

The next meeting was held the last hour in the morning on Wednesday, Nov. 6. This meeting was called to order by the president, Lola Crandall and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by our secretary. The discussion on "Friendships" continued and at the close of the meeting Mrs. M. W. Heckmann spoke to us on Friendships between Boys and Girls. Everyone enjoyed hearing her, and we only regretted that the time was up so soon, but perhaps we can persuade her to come again.

Heretofore the Girl Reserves of Ellendale have had no constitution. The president has written to various organizations for the copies of their constitutions. With the help of these we plan to draw up our own.

A program committee has been appointed which consists of three girls, one from each class in Senior High. They are, Catharine Barta, Florence Hermansen, and Elva Jorgensen.

This year we expect to have outside speakers come in occasionally to talk to us.

The man who loafs may have plenty of company, but the quality is not very good.

JUDGE HUTCHINSON TALKSIN HISTORY CLASS

The American History Class was honored by a talk from Judge Hutchinson, Thursday, October 31.

His talk was based on the Constitution and Government of the United States, which was a very interesting and appropriate topic as we had been studying the Constitution in detail the preceding week.

Mr. Hutchinson endeavored to show us our duty as an American Citizen, and what our Government means to us.

Judge Hutchinson is the judge of this district and was in Ellendale for the fall term of court which has just closed.

His talk was very interesting and enjoyed by the entire class.

The Aka Camp Fire Girls will hold their first meeting of this school year, Thursday evening, November 19. Miss Larson is their new guardian, and Miss Edwards is assistant.

HONOR ROLL

School began with a fine spirit among all the students in the Senior High school. Our report cards, which were given out at the end of the first six weeks, contained many high marks, but some marks are not as they might have been. There are quite a number of students in the Senior High school that were on the honor roll the first period, but let's try to increase the number by the end of the second period.

Those on the honor roll are:

Seniors—Catharine Barta, Lola Crandall, Panzy Gallagher, Robert Hill, Marion Lewis, Maynard Oliason, Florence Pederson and Ella Hansen.

Juniors—Doris Bye, Beulah Bye, Genevieve Carss, Florence Hermansen, Viola Lematta, Helen Maercklein and Edward Pehl.

Sophomores — Gwendolyn Bymer, Elva Jorgensen, Ruth Radtke and Louise Shaller.

HOMEWARD BOUND!

The entire student body has been wondering why Miss Edwards has been so elated the past week, but the secret was revealed to-day; Miss Edwards is going to Minneapolis for the week end.

THE GREATEST DEBATE OFTHE SEASON; SENIOR RINGS

What kind of rings shall we get? How much can we spend for rings? From whom shall we get our rings? These are the questions that have been discussed from all angles by the Seniors in corridors, in class rooms, and in senior meetings. They have been the chief topics for argument, but now they will be heard no more. After many samples of rings from three different concerns were viewed, the class selected four samples they believed worthy of notice. These were then voted on, a majority vote deciding the question. A very satisfactory ring for $7.75 having been chosen, an order was placed with the Hansen Company at Fargo.

At this time the representative from the Hansen Company also showed to the class his samples of announcements. The announcements were much more formal than had been the custom. All the samples were very nice, and for once there was no dispute as to what one was desired. The class seemed to be almost of one mind, so a decision was quickly made. As it was not certain how many announcements would be needed no definite order was given. This was deferred until spring.

On the whole all the Seniors seem well pleased with their choice.

LOST—Many night's sleep.—Jerry Brennan.

MASONS AND STARS ENTERTAIN THE FACULTY

Friday evening, October 25, the Normal and High School faculties were guests of the members of the Masonic and Eastern Star lodges. This reception was given at the Odd Fellows Lodge.

Mr. Wm. Jackson and Mrs. O. A. Banks, representing the Masonic and Eastern Star orders respectively, gave the addresses of welcome. The responses were given by President Black of the State Normal, and Miss Minnie Onsrud, principal of the High school.

Mr. Wilson then introduced the new teachers: Miss Julia Larson, Miss Florence Greenland, Miss Helen Jury, Miss Ardith Hubbard, Miss Bess Oerke, Mr. O. K. Ehlers, and Miss Leona Edwards.

For the remainder of the evening the group played "cootie." Mrs. J. H. Furan won first prize and Judge W. H. Hutchinson second prize. A tasty lunch was served to about ninety people.

The High School Band

If you were to visit the vicinity of the City Hall on a Tuesday evening you would hear sweet strains of music issuing from its doors and windows! "What's that?" you say. "Oh yes! That is the High School band hard at work."

The band is beginning its work this year with excellent promise. Practically all the players have had some experience in playing their instruments. If each member is willing to do some individual work there is bound to be progress. When spring arrives, E. H. S. should be able to boast of a fine band.

This year also the band is under the direction of Mr. W. L. Briley. A new band book, "The Promoter", has just arrived. We think this book has a good name.

The present membership of the band

Diagnostic Tests, Like The Poor, are Always With Us

Nobody likes drudgery, and the phrase "diagnostic tests" has an ominous sound. One conjures up a picture of long, monotonous drills in punctuation, spelling, grammar, and sentence structure.

Yet everybody likes to speak good English, and the drudgery of endless exercises and monotonous drills is the price one has to pay for mastery of the art of speech.

On October 21 and 22, the standard English tests of the year were given in the Senior high school. These tests were an inventory of the students' achievements in English. Remedial work will follow after which another test will be given at the close of the semester, to determine what progress has been made.

Following are the norms by classes of students in Senior High and the National norms respectively:

Subject	H. S. norms	N. norms.

E. H. S. GRIDDERS TAKE LAST GAME 41-6

The concluding game of the season, played against Edgeley ended with a score of 41-6. Edgeley got their choice and preferred to kick. In the first few minutes of play the Cardinals scored. The Cardinals again got possession of the ball and pushed it within a few feet of the goal line but lost it on a fumble. In the second quarter the Cardinal eleven pushed the ball across ending the half with a score of 14-0.

In the beginning of the third quarter Schmierer intercepted a pass and ran for another touchdown. During the remainder of the game the Cardinals scored three more touchdowns. Ellendale made all but one of their extra points.

Edgeley scored when they completed a short pass in the Cardinal territory. The try for a point failed.

The scores of our games this fall are as follows:

Ellendale, 14—Milnor, 6.
Ellendale, 0—Wishek, 6.
Ellendale, 6—LaMoure, 6.
Ellendale, 6—Oakes, 7.
Ellendale, 6—Frederick, 7.
Ellendale, 41—Edgeley, 6.

The total of points for the Cardinals is 73 and for our opponents 38.

The game with Lisbon had to be called off this season because of the snow.

ENGLISH II ENGLISH CLUB

The two divisions of English II met Tuesday, Nov. 5th, to organize an English II club.

The officers of the club are Howard Townsend and Caroline Newman, presidents, and Carl Webster secretary-treasurer. The officers of the club and Elva Jorgensen and Marion Hubbard constitute the program committee. It may seem strange that there are two presidents, for organizations usually have only one, but we have elected one president for each division.

The club will meet once a month.

The purpose of the club is to give training in parliamentary procedure and an opportunity to appear before a group in declamation, plays, stories, and oratory.

Miss Onsrud is the adviser of the club.

PROMPTNESS

When you've got a thing to say,
Say it! Don't take half a day,
When your tale's got little in it,
Crowd the whole thing in a minute!
Life is short—a fleeting vapor—
Don't you fill the whole blamed paper
With a tale, which, at a pinch
Could be cornered in an inch!
Boil her down until she simmers;
Polish her until she glimmers,
When you've got a thing to say,
Say it! Don't take half a day!

JUNIOR PLAY IS A SUCCESS

The Junior Class play, "Hold That Line, Jimmy!" was presented in the High school assembly, Thursday and Friday evenings, Dec. 12 and 13. The rather heavy play was well given and showed faithful work on the part of the cast.

It portrayed a bit of life at Crayton college, Gordon Graham, as Jimmy Graham, president of Crayton, handling the difficult leading role very well. He was able to overcome a bad inferiority complex and became a fighter, assisted by Andrew Hull as Jerry Travis, a peppy bond salesman, and Andrew surely played the part. Jasper Allen, who attempts to deprive Jimmy of the presidency, was played by Wayne Hill. The long lines, heavy with strong feeling, were successfully given. A hard part was ably handled. Jasper Allen's niece, Shirley Allen, who was used as a tool, was played by Marie Kirschner, who was sweet and charming and a fine leading lady.

Florence Hermanson, as Margie Winston, Helen Maercklein, as Flossie Sommers, and Edward Taylor, as Chubby Connors, all students at Crayton, were everything that students should be, spontaneous and enthusiastic.

Marion Brown was matchless as Arabella Washington, the college colored cook, and raised a laugh every time she came on the stage.

The college atmosphere was largely produced by a group of boys who gave yells off stage. They were Olin Minton, Howard Townsend, Irvin Layer, Robert Rowe, Lowell Workman, John Shannon, Leo Austin, Edward Pehl, Donovan Lewis and Harry Witte.

The specialties were unusually good. "The Wedding of the Painted Dolls" was given by Monica Wentzel, Jimmy Beggs, Panzy Gallagher, Elva Jorgensen, Lucille Van Eschen, Beulah Bye, Doris Bye, Florence Pederson, Lilliah Collett, Gwendolyn Bymers, Marian Hubbard, Thelma Oliason, Viola Lematta, Nora Strand, Donovan Lewis and Bobby Whelan.

"Here Comes the Showboat," a darky hit, was presented by Eugene Chute, Russell Wenkstern, Myron Jury, James MacDonald and Maynard Oliason.

The play as usual was given to defray the expenses of the Junior-Senior banquet.

ALUMNI OF '28

Have you wondered what the class of '28 are doing?

Well, for instance, there are Bernice Main, Vera Wallace, Alice Griffin, Helen Gray, Florence Warner, and Hulda Ojala, all of whom are making the most capable rural school teachers.

Albert Kirschner, Everett Griffin, Nellie Zearley, Clare Falconer, Florence Wright, Kermit Wenkstern, Ella Davis, and Howard Ackert are now attending the State Normal Industrial college in this city. Elliott Thomas is attending the University at Grand Forks.

Laura Schandelmier holds a position at Ed. Wolf's Cafe. Jewell Elliott does stenographic work at the Northern Light and Power Co. Mark Wenkstern is working at home. Dale Newman is working in Corvallis, Oregon. Jennie Wahl is practicing nursing in the Northwestern hospital of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Ralph Davis is now working for George Staley.

Mildred Fox Miller is living near Columbia, S. D. Marvin Brown is also married and is living in Fullerton. Florence Dinsmore LaMaster is living in Corlae, Iowa.

Senior Controversie

A meeting to decide upon the gift to be presented to E. H. S. by the class of 1929 was held Friday, November 23, at the high school with ten of the original class of twenty-six present. Eldon Jury, the last president of the class, called the meeting to order and Mr. Ingvalson held his old position as class adviser.

A radio and a permanent Student Loan Fund (which if chosen will be combined with the old Fund begun locally last year and called the student loan fund of the class of 1929) were the two gifts discussed. A vote taken showed that five of the ten members present favored the student loan fund and five the radio. Each side presented convincing arguments for its choice—the side for the radio upholding it as highly educational, as well as entertaining, and the side for the student loan fund, showing what an excellent thing it is, providing as it does funds with which to provide edu-

CARDINAL CAGERS OPEN NEW SEASON

About 30 candidates answered the call for basket ball. Although we have only two letter men back, Coach Ehlers will try to build another strong team. Work has begun with great enthusiasm and a successful year is promised. The coach has divided the boys into two squads.

First Squad: Walter Schmierer, Wayne Hill, Elmer Schmierer, Myron Jury, Francis Ackert, Gordon Graham, Verrill Fischer, Harry Witte, Eugene Chute, Ivan Thompson, Lowell Workman and Andrew Hull.

Second Squad: Arnold Ojala, Irvin Layer, Lloyd Salmen, Maynard Oliason, Clifford Skoglund, Willis Brown, Olin Minton, John Shannon, Howard Townsend, Donovan Lewis, Carl Webster and Robert Rowe.

After two weeks of practice, the Cardinals motored to Ashley, Monday by a score of 16 to 11. The game was evening, December 2, and were defeated slow, probably from lack of practice and because of a small gymnasium.

The line-up was:

Francis Ackert, center; Walter Schmierer, forward; Wayne Hill, forward; Harry Witte, forward; Eugene Chute, guard; Elmer Witte, guard; Edward Taylor, guard; Ivan Thompson, guard.

We can only be valued as we make ourselves valuable.—Emerson.

cation for those financially unable to procure it.

Nothing definite was decided, however, since the absent members must cast their votes. It was decided, therefore, to let the matter rest for a time, during which each absent member will be notified of what has been done, and will be allowed to indicate his or her choice in the matter by sealed ballot. A new meeting will then be called, the members present will cast final votes, and the sealed ballots will be counted. The gift having the majority will of course be the one which is to be presented to Ellendale High school.

Either the radio or the Fund, whichever is chosen, will prove a decidedly beneficial addition to the school.

F. L. STANTON.

When today's difficulties almost obscure the bright visions of tomorrow; when plans are upset; when unforeseen events seem to tear down a whole year, or perhaps more, of efforts; when little annoyances eat into our minds and seem to corrode the power we have of taking things calm; and when misfortune threatens to destroy everything—remember that in every business, in every career, there are hardships of every description to meet. Every hope is broken by a chasm of discouragement, which is often followed by a period of despair. But—to quit in the chasm is to fail; do not let this thought ever enter your mind. Always see in your mind's eye the radiant summits of success.

Don't quit in the chasm! Keep a-goin'.

GIRLS FROM N. I. ENTER-TAIN SENIOR HIGH

A very interesting program was enjoyed by the faculty and student body Friday morning, November 22, when three young ladies of the Normal and Industrial college came over and presented to us a number of children's stories and poems. They were given in commemoration of Children's Book Week.

Miss Muriel Thompson offered "A One and a Two and a Three" by Bunner and "Castor Oil" by Guest; Miss Stella Johnson gave one of Kipling's "Just So Stories", "How the Whale Got His Throat"; Miss Nan Wheelihan offered the following selections by A. A. Millne: "The Christening," "The Market Square", "Independence", "At the Zoo", "Missing", "Before Tea", "Politeness," and "Disobedience."

We wish to thank these girls for this fine program, and hope they will come again.

Have You Noticed Our Sweaters?

At the close of the football season some of the boys expressed a wish to have sweaters by which they might display their manly beauty and, incidentally, their football letters: accordingly, the sweaters were ordered. Coach Ehlers suggested getting them two sizes too large to allow for chest expansion, which, under the circumstances, was a wise suggestion. Then followed two weeks of anxious waiting, when one morning twelve black beclad boys appeared in the assembly with prison stripes on their arms ranging from one to three years. On their chest (chest expansion allowed for) was displayed an outstanding "E" which does not stand for "Elegant", "Ebullient" or "Effeminate", but for "Ellendale". Then for the next two or three days twelve black-beclad boys with prison stripes on their arms and an outstanding "E" on their chest (chest expansion allowed for) strutted up and down the aisle attracting envious glances from the weaker sex and the teachers included. The girls believe clothes make the man.

Why shouldn't they?

Girl Reserves Meet Again

Last Monday, November 25, the Girl Reserves met and took great pleasure in discussing just what they thought of boys and "petting". Miss Onsrud talked to us on the subject, and we gave our opinions. Well, we wish you boys could have heard our opinions! You would mark the calendar and celebrate that day every year as the great day when you made the astounding discovery that the girls of E. H. S. have a remarkably fine opinion of their own. Not only were opinions expressed, but a great deal of food for thought was furnished; also a fine moral was derived from the discussion. We came to the conclusion that—1. It is better to have more than one boy friend.—2. They should be comrades and not petters.—3. Any numbskull can be a petter, but it takes character to be a real comrade.

At our meeting on Dec. 4, Miss Oerke, head of the sewing department at the Normal Industrial college, talked to us on "dress." She gave us very many interesting and useful suggestions on how to dress and she stressed the importance of dressing to express one's personality. We certainly appreciated having her with us, not only because she is a dress expert, but also because she has had experience with other Girl Reserve organizations.

CALL OF THE WILD

by Jack London

Buck was a St. Bernard dog who had to go through many hardships. He had many masters, but no matter how cruel they were to him he loved them all.

As Buck grew older he was traded again for the last time, and this time fell into the kind hands of John Thornton.

A short while after, Thornton and another group of men and also a group of dogs, of whom Buck was leader, started on a trip to a valley which was supposed to contain much gold. Many people had gone there before, but none had returned.

After they had been in this valley for some time, Buck went out hunting; and when he returned two days later, he found his master and the other men had been killed by the Indians.

Buck then turned to the wilderness and became the leader of a pack of wolves.—Thelma Oliason.

COMING EVENTS

Camp Fire party, Wednesday, Dec. 18.

Boy Scout party, Wednesday, Dec. 18.

Junior High party, Friday, Dec. 20.

Gordan and Wayne Entertain

Gordon Graham and Wayne Hill were hosts to a number of their friends Saturday evening, Nov. 30, at the home of the former. Games and dancing formed the amusement, followed by a delicious lunch. Those bidden were the Misses Helen Maercklein, Thelma Collett, Elva Jorgensen, Florence Hermansen and Marie Kirschner, and Ivan Thompson, Donovan Lewis, Edward Taylor, Harry Witte, and Walter Schmierer.

Donny's Surprise

Donovan Lewis was the victim of a complete surprise, Friday evening, Nov. 22, when he walked into his home to find it was his birthday and the sixteenth annual celebration in honor of the event. After Donnie had recovered, the evening was spent in playing whist. Edward Taylor carried off first honors with Eugene Chute successfully bringing up the rear. Toward the close of the evening a very satisfying lunch was served. Donnie was the recipient of many useful gifts, which included more "Coppers" than he wanted to count.

Those present were Ivan Thompson, Gerald Brennan, Olin Minton, Walter Schmierer, Edward Taylor, Harry Witte, Gordon Graham, Wayne Hill, Eugene Chute, Myron Jury, and Russell Wenkstern.

The Waffle Supper

Monday evening, November 26, the Misses Mary McGivern, Vivian Graham, Laura Schandelmeier, Bernice Dickinson, Frances Carpenter and Monica and Nona Wentzel were seen carrying provisions for a waffle supper to the Wentzel girls' home in the south part of town. After devouring all the waffles possible, the girls spent the evening dancing and talking over old times. At a late hour the girls departed determined to get-together again.

A Get-To-Gether

On Friday evening, November 29, Blanche Rose Spiller, Vera Wallace, Nona Wentzel and Laura Schandelmeier enjoyed a get-together party at Mrs. Spiller's home.

The girls spent the evening playing cards and recalling and discussing their high school days.

At a late hour they were served a very fine lunch at a table set for four and decorated in colors that revealed the Christmas spirit.

Florence, Ada, and Laverne

Misses Florence Whelan, Ada Waddell, and Laverne Gayman left Monday morning on the train for Fargo, N. D., where they attended a 4-H club meeting, of which they are members. They returned Saturday.

Hi-Y Well Underway

The candidates for Hi-Y membership were honor guests of the Hi-Y club at its regular meeting on November 23, at which time Wayne Hill directed the thoughts of the boys along the line of a Hi-Y fellow's part in promoting school spirit. Later the members retired to executive session, at which time a committee was appointed to select those eligible for membership from among the candidates.

On December 4, the ceremony of initiation was held for four senior electives for membership in the Hi-Y club. Those taken in at this time were Ivan Thompson, Clifford Scogland, Lloyd Salmen and Maynard Oliason. Junior and Sophomore electives will be initiated at a later date. After the initiation Eugene Chute led a lively discussion on Clean Speech, to which the boys responded heartily, and many fine and interesting view points were expressed.

NUMBER ON HONOR

ROLL HAS INCREASED

Another six weeks has passed, and examinations are over—which is a great relief to most of the students. The marks on the whole this period are much higher, and the number on the honor roll has increased. We surely are glad to see more names on the honor roll and hope the number increases next time also.

The students on the honor roll this period are:

Seniors—Catharine Barta, Lola Crandell, Panzy Gallagher, Jennie Graham, Ella Hansen, Robert Hill, Marian Lewis, Maynard Oliason, Florence Pederson, Ivan Thompson, Monica Wentzel, and Martha Gerling.

Juniors—Doris Bye, Beulah Bye, Florence Hermansen, Wayne Hill, Genevieve Carss, Viola Lematta, Helen Maercklein, Edward Pehl, Irene Sprouse and James Beggs.

Sophomores—Gwendolyn Bymers, Leliah Collett, Marian Hubbard, Elva Jorgensen, Frances Linnell, Rose Maly, Olin Minton, and Ruth Radtke.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT—

Lola Crandell is very good at telling yarns.

Jennie Graham has a check book of her own.

The Senior rings are here.

All chemistry experiments are in.

Vacation will soon be here.

Frances Carpenter brought candy to school.

Mr. Ingvalson has a very interesting "backbone".

Marian Lewis is playing basketball now.

Thelma Oliason was wasting time one day.

Wilina Davis was caught chewing gum.

Camp Fire

There have been two meetings of the Aka Camp Fire girls since the publication of the last Cardinal. The first meeting was on Nov. 21, and at this meeting they began to plan their work or project for the year. Miss Larson and Miss Edwards, who are the new guardians, had many good suggestions for work. The group plan to hold their meetings on Thursday evenings at 7:30 at the High school.

The second meeting was held Dec. 5, in the sewing room. The girls plan to fix the room up, such as to put up curtains, decorate the room and hold their meetings there. New members were discussed and four girls were voted on to be admitted as members of the Camp Fire organization. We welcome these girls into our organization and hope they do their best to uphold the character of the Aka Camp Fire organization.

Scouts To Aberdeen

A group of Ellendale scouts, accompanied by Mr. Ehlers, assistant scoutmaster, drove to Aberdeen Saturday, December 7, in Floyd Van Horn's car. The purpose of the trip was to pass certain Scout tests in swimming and life saving. This opportunity was given them at the "Y". The result was that the following boys passed the life saving test: George Dawes, Floyd Van Horn and Verrill Fischer. Other scouts in the group were Donald Wallis and Gaylord Boom. The boys report many courtesies extended them at the "Y" and a general good time on the trip.

Vacation Is Near

Stop! Look! Listen!—Fellow studes, do you realize that there are only four more days of work left before the Yuletide holidays. Doesn't it give you a comfortable feeling just to realize you won't have to hop out of that warm bed to get to an eight-thirty class, or to stay up late getting some trying lesson?

After December 20, we won't meet again until the year 1930. Let's turn over a new page and dig. There is a long stretch after Christmas until June. So rest up well, my laddies and lassies, for we all have to work.

Perhaps an Archery Class?

Miss Onsrud calmly announced today to a group of girls that she had taken up archery. We all think this is a very fine sport and wish that she would conduct a class in it.

ELLENDALE YOUTH GETS

Galesburg, Ill., Dec. 11.—Among the 16 Lombard football players honored with letters for the 1929 season was Donald Crabtree of Ellendale, N. D. Crabtree is also expected to star in track next spring.—Fargo Forum.

Delphians Give First Program

In her introductory address before the Delphian Literary Society, Friday, December 6, the president, Catharine Barta, gave the aims of the society. She said, "We wish to give the members an opportunity to exercise their talents. Who knows how many future authors, orators, statesmen or national leaders we have in Ellendale High school? Every person of fame made preparation in youth. We are now in the stage of modeling."

It is the plan of the Delphian Society this year to trace the development of the American people from the Anglo-Saxons, to the present time.

The first program, given Friday, Dec. 6, portrayed the life and characteristics of the Anglo-Saxon people.

After the usual preliminaries the following program was given:

Life and Character of the Anglo-Saxons Thelma Oliason
History of the Epic Poem, Beowulf Nora Strand
Dramatization of the poem, Beowulf
Beowulf Lowell Workman
Danish King Hrothgar
..... Maynord Oliason
Queen Weitheow Beulah Bye
Hrothgar's attendants
...Robert Hill and Walter Beutow
Beowulf's attendants
...Lloyd Salmen and Floyd Jensen
Prologue Lola Crandell
Song of the Minstrels

Frances Carpenter, Monica Wentzel
The Rev. Mr. Hull, who acted as judge, awarded the program a grade of 92.

Assembly Period

The ten to ten bell is ringing. All books are closed with a bang. Class rooms doors are flung open and the Senior high students come straggling into the assembly. The chatter begins. Suddenly all is calm. Miss Onsrud and Mr. Ingvalson are making announcements. After the announcements are made the chatter begins again. One or two stray students are seen wandering aimlessly about the assembly or corridors. The ten o'clock bell rings. Everyone searches frantically for their text books and makes a mad scramble for their respective class rooms. Peace and quiet again flood the assembly.

P. T. A.

The Parent Teachers Association met Monday evening, November 18, in the high school auditorium.

The following program was presented:

A Dalcroze Demonstration, by grade children Mrs. A. E. Dunphy.
Piano Solo Miriam Workman.

Vocal Solo John McFarland.

In algebra class we have adopted a new system of marking for this six weeks period. Instead of averaging the daily grades we have a test every Friday over the work covered during the week, and average those grades.

The following wrote perfect papers in the first test: Jean Crabtree, Horace Pehl, Joyce Holte and Minerva Rostimily.

In English the ninth year class are studying the essay, "A Taste of Maine Birch" from "Sharp Eyes". We find it to be very interesting.

Weather Report

Fair in Later History (expounding the Industrial Revolution of England); warmer in Chemistry (finished atomic weights and thoroughly memorized the table of valece, etc.); and much warmer in the assembly (the teachers are beginning to expediate matters.)

Senior Glory

On a deep red sardonyx in a circlet of gold

An outstanding emblem of our Hi School unfolds.

To some it may seem just merely an "E" But to 28 Seniors it seems more, you see,

For it stands for our Hi School, and the days we hold dear,

From the time we were freshies, our hearts filled with fear,

"Till now mighty Seniors about to depart

This old world to face, with no fear in our hearts.

'Cause we're students from Ellendale, "we've stood the test,"

We're bound to come thru right along with the best.

Volume 3

Ellendale, North Dakota, February 3, 1930

Number 4.

OAKES AGAIN DEFEATED BY E. H. S.

At eleven and one half pounds to the side, how many pounds of bacon has Oakes donated to Ellendale via the basket ball route? Out of twelve games played we "brang" home the bacon eleven times. Only once have the tables been turned on us and then only by one point. During the last six years of playing we have run up 169 points to their 64. This lets the bacon know where it belongs. Please note we are not talking about foot ball.

The game with our opponents, Tuesday evening Jan. 14, in the N. I. Armory, started with a rush, both teams trying to draw the first blood. Oakes made a point in the free throw route and quickly followed with a field goal. Ellendale opening up made two field goals and two free throws to obtain the lead and to hold it the entire game. The half ended with the score 5-6 in the Cardinals favor.

The second half started in whirlwind fashion. During the third quarter little scoring was done, but the last quarter Ellendale took a spurt, and when the whistle blew, the score stood Oakes 11, Ellendale 22, plus the bacon.

Once Ellendale obtained the lead she had little trouble to keep it. So closely did the Cardinals guard that few open shots were allowed Oakes.

Vocation Class

A class in Vocations has been organized that aims to acquaint the student with his school, himself, and his opportunities. Mr. Ehlers has charge of this class.

WINNERS IN THE HOME BAKING CONTEST

Jean Crabtree, Mildred Allen and Genevieve Dinsmore won first, second and third places respectively, in the High school Home Baking contest, sponsored by Miss Clara N. Flemington, Head of the Home Economics department at the State Normal and Industrial school on January 16. Miss Flemington believes that it is a real accomplishment for a High school girl to be able to make a good cake for

E. H. S. RECEIVES BENEFICIAL GIFT

As you probably all know, it is the custom of each graduating class to leave a class gift to the school.

Shortly before the Christmas vacation, the class of '29 held a meeting for the purpose of deciding upon their gift. Many suggestions were made and discussed. Of all the suggestions two seemed to stand out as the most worthwhile and most acceptable.

Arguments for these two, a radio and a student loan fund, were given and a trial vote of those present was taken. The vote resulted in a tie. The class adviser M. r. Ingvalson, then appointed two members, Nan Wheelihan, for the radio and Marie Furan for the student loan, to write arguments which actual home consumption.

Instead of coming to class at 8:30 a. m. on the contest day, the Home Economics I group, High school section, reported at their own homes and baked a contest cake under home conditions. The class had been studying cake making. These cakes, baked in gas, coal, gasoline and electric ovens were all creditable productions.

Splendid cooperation on the part of the Ellendale mothers who consented to let the girls do this in their home kitchen was apparent. A note from the mother accompanied each cake, saying that the girl had made her contest cake without any help. Interest in the project was evident as every girl in the class entered the contest and with the weather 28 below zero brought her cake by 8:30 a. m. to the Home Economics department at the Seventeen members responded, and the result of the votes, which were counted by a committee, was 11 to 6 in favor of the Student Loan Fund.

A meeting will be held in the near future to make arrangements for the administration of the fund so it will soon be in operation.

FORMER E. H. S. BOY PLAYING BALL ON EUGENE SQUADS

Eugene, Ore. Dec. 10—Having just completed a successful season as quarterback on the local high school football squad, Albert Dietz, former Ellendale, N. D. boy, has won a place for himself on the basket ball quintet.

Achievement

The man who is satisfied with things as they are never makes them better. Doing today just what he did yesterday, and this semester just what he did last, dead to opportunities around him, he rests and rusts—the self-satisfied worker.

Did we achieve anything last semester? Did we do anything new? Were we satisfied with what we already knew? No. We all began something new to us, new subjects; and we also had some new teachers here to instruct us. No doubt by the end of the semester many students of the Ellendale High school knew quite a few things they had not previously known. But—were they satisfied? No! They are still striving towards greater achievement. They have had that aim in mind and will continue to have it.

Discontent is the generator of action. It conceives and fosters all incentive. It stimulates the small to be great, and the great to be greater.

We are a curious student body never satisfied with what we know, but strive on in an effort to achieve something more.

Students, this is a splendid attitude to have. Let's continue to be discontented with our present knowledge and "keep going."

Discontent is the voice of conscience in the souls of the truly great. We can be great in feeling a divine discontent, in never being satisfied with anything short of perfection.

FORMER H. S. STUDENTS

RECEIVE N. I. PINS

There are several of the High school graduates who received N. I. pins this term. They are Helen Heimke, Stella Bergstreser, Marie Furan, and Albert Kirschner. Those named were fine students of the Ellendale High school, and we are very proud to know that they are doing so well.

William Combellick is also among those who received pins. He was a sophomore here last year, and we are glad to know of his achievement at the N. I.

THE REVEREND MR. JONES ADDRESSES THE HI-Y

The Reverend Mr. Jones was guest of honor of the Hi-Y club at its regular meeting on January 8, at which time he gave the boys a most instructive and thought provoking talk on choosing one's occupation. He stressed the fact that no one, not even parents, can judge the individual's ability for, or capacity for, a certain line of endeavor better than that individual himself. He defined education as the knowledge of things in life and the ability to live in harmony with them. He showed how education is more and more becoming a prerequisite to success and success comes only through earnest endeavor and strenuous application of one's faculties.

We all enjoyed his talk very much, and feel that it was very beneficial to us. We will all keep it in mind, and it will be especially helpful to those who are studying occupations this semester.

Scout Routine

Troop 32, Ellendale Scouts, has been meeting regularly every week. The attendance has been unusually good and the programs have been very interesting. The Patrol Leaders have been active in giving us some good stunts at many of the meetings.

Scouts are now looking forward to Anniversary Week which marks the birthday of scouting. The scouts will plan for a program during that week. Mr. Jones, who has been given the title of Scout Commissioner, has invited the Troop as a body to come to the Methodist church for a special Scout Service on the evening of Feb. 9th. We have also heard a rumor to the effect that some good folks are planning a Dad and Son dinner to be held during this week.

At present meetings are held on Wednesday evenings. At our meeting the past week Mrs. Oscar Anderson gave us a very interesting talk on first aid and bandaging.

The work in marching drill which Mr. Ehlers has been giving the scouts is showing results. Most of them know the difference between "right face" and "at ease." Some trouble is still experienced in stopping when they get started. Ask Everett Phillips.

SENIORS HUNT FOR PLAY WORTHY OF THEM

Once again the Seniors of E. H. S. will show their superior dramatic ability to the public in the annual Senior play which will take place in the near future. A committee to select the play, consisting of Maynard Oliason, Frances Carpenter, and Catharine Barta, has been appointed. This committee is searching the play catalogues with utmost care to find the best play therein.

HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW BOOKS

That is a good book, it seems to me, which is opened with expectation and closed with profit.—Louisa M. Alcott.

The most dependable, the most constant form of recreation we have is reading. When every other diversion palls or fails we can always turn to a good book. It is patient; it will wait forever for us.

The High school has been very fortunate this year in having eighty-one new books added to the library, books of fiction, biography, drama, poetry, science, geography and history.

These books are all attractively bound and illustrated, and are printed in good type that will not tax the eye. They please the eye and the touch as well as the mind. Just to look at them suggests that to read them will be a pleasure.

The fact that only six of the eighty-one remain on the shelves is proof of their popularity. And these six are at the present time unrelated to the students' work and interest.

Some of the titles are: "Story of My Boyhood and Youth" John Muir, "A Friend of Caesar", "Moby Dick," "Life of Clara Barton", "Children of the Ghetto," "Red Badge of Courage," "The Secret Garden," "Master Skylark," "Ox Team on the Oregon Trail," "Quality Street," "Strife," "Disraeli," "Jeanne d'Arc."

The last four are dramas. A complete list of the books is published in The Dickey County Leader this week.

We are very grateful to the school board for this new addition to our library.

LaMOURE DEFEATS

ELLENDALÉ 23 TO 7

The Ellendale cagers motored to La-Moure on Tuesday, Jan. 21, where they were met and defeated by the La-Moure quintet.

The game started out very slow, with neither team scoring in the first five minutes of play. Then La-Moure got started with their passing attack and ran up a score of 14 to 3 at the end of the first half.

The second half opened with more speed. Although Ellendale played a good brand of basketball, they could not stop the passing and sharp shooting of the La-Moure team. Leorn of La-Moure was high point man with five field goals and one foul shot.

MISS FLEMINGTON TRAINS MODEL HOME MAKERS

The Home Economics II class are studying house planning and have planned their future homes. We hope they will be happy living in them.

"Trifles make perfection, but perfection is no trifle."

FUTURE ORATORS INTHE MAKING

An oratorical contest! Yes that's it. That's the project now being fostered in Ellendale High school. But it is somewhat different from the literary contests of previous years in that it has been limited to boys only. Several boys have indicated their willingness to enter, namely: Harry Witte, Veril Fischer, Roscoe Ladd, Lowell Workman, Lloyd Salmen, Elmer Witte, and Maynard Oliason. They are now hard at work mastering their selections. The contest is to take place sometime in the near future. It is something to look forward to.

Ingvalsons Entertain Teachers

The teachers were delightfully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ingvalson at their home Saturday evening, Jan. 11.

After recovering from a very invigorating walk (it being such a mild January evening) the guests first took part in a clever, original contest sponsored by Mr. Ingvalson. This was followed by a series of "stunts" supplied by the old teachers.

The new teachers were then asked to add to their part of the entertainment, and it was discovered that Miss Greenland and Miss Edwards are famous sopranos and that Mr. Ehlers has considerable ability as a "broad jumper."

A delicious two course lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ehlers. At the conclusion of the evening, the teachers decided unanimously that Mr. and Mrs. Ingvalson were charming entertainers.

GIRL RESERVES HOLDMEETING JANUARY 15

The Girl Reserves met Wednesday, Jan. 15. The constitution committee, consisting of Jennie Graham, Florence Pederson, Lola Crandell, Panzy Gallagher, and Marion Hubbard, which was appointed at the last meeting, presented the constitution, which they had drawn up. It included a three-fold aim:

- To promote friendship.
- To assume responsibility.
- To develop our own personality.

This was the main topic of discussion. The question of a name for our organization was discussed. Miss Onsrud also raised the question as to whether we should have a trophy cup on which the name of the best all-around girl should be inscribed each year. This and the question of a name were left undecided until the next meeting, when they will be discussed.

Rather Inquisitive

Marian (discussing family affairs with Florence P.): How many sisters have you married?

WORD FROM MEMBEROF CLASS OF '29

In a letter received recently from Richard Tiegs, who is attending college at Valparaiso, Ind., we find that he is progressing rapidly in his college training. He says, "I am quite used to college life by now."

Richard is carrying a difficult course and is required to do a great deal of studying, and he wishes the days were a little longer.

In concluding his letter, Richard gives his best wishes and greetings to the faculty and student body of E. H. S.

We are very glad to learn that he is progressing so nicely, and we are also proud that he is a product of Ellendale High school.

Elva Gives Party For Marie

Marie Kirschner was delightfully surprised Wednesday evening, Jan. 29, by a group of friends, who arrived at the Jorgensen home. After being assured everyone was in her right mind and that this was only a birthday, Marie entered into the spirit by suggesting a game of whist.

At a late hour a delightful lunch of waffles, to which everyone present did justice, was served. After this, of course, came the end of a perfect party and everyone went home well satisfied with the evening.

Those present were Thelma Collett, Florence Hermansen, Genevieve Carss, Florence Pederson, Opal Thompson, Elva Jorgensen, and Helen Maercklein.

PRODUCT OF ELLEN-DALE HIGH SCHOOL

Do you know that there are four of the Ellendale High school "old grads" playing on the Normal school basketball quintet?

They are: Howard Ackert, Ernest Robertson, Tommy Jenkins and Kermit Wenkstern.

That is just one sample of what the old Hi puts out.

Those who want to know the affairs of the World, attend Biology class.

WINNERS IN THEHOME BAKING CONTEST

State school for judging.

There were luscious white cakes, rich chocolate cakes, cakes without eggs, marble cakes, loaf and layer cakes, in fact every kind of a cake imaginable. The cakes were scored by the Home Economics college seniors.

The idea of the contest was to carry over into the home the food preparation work which the school is teaching, thus making the girl a better member of her family group.

DECLAMATIONS ARENOW UNDERWAY

One more annual event is in the making. We have started diligent preparation for the Declamation Contest. The date cannot be definitely announced at present, but it is probable that it will occur the last week in February, or the first week in March. The readings and readers are as follows:

Our Very Best People -----
 ----- Gwendolyn Byrners
 Looking After Clara -- Frances Linnell
 Mrs. Mavor's Story -- Monica Wentzel
 Sign of The Cross ----- Ruth Radtke
 Moriah's Mourning ---- Marion Brown
 The Swan Song ---- Genevieve Carss
 The Death Disk ----- Lola Crandell

We shall be very glad at any time to add the name of your paper to our exchange list.

I Know Something Good About You

Wouldn't this old world be better

If the folks we meet would say,

"I know something good about you!"

And treat us just that way?

Wouldn't it be fine and dandy,

If each handclasp warm and true

Carried with it this assurance,

"I know something good about you?"

Wouldn't life be lots more happy,

If we praised the good we see?

For there's such a lot of goodness

In the worst of you and me.

Wouldn't it be nice to practice

That fine way of thinking too?—

"You know something good about me!"

I know something good about you!"

OUR GOAL

Some day we're going to be a mighty Senior,
We're going to reach our goal in the end;
So each day we're trying to be merrier
And always have a helping hand to lend.

Although the ninth grade now is our superior,
They had to pass the eighth grade just last year.
And with each passing day we'll be nearer;
We'll reach our destination, never fear!—F. W., Eighth grade.

Two Twins

Mr. O. K. Ehlers: Gordon, why don't you stay at home and study evenings?

Gordon: (disgustedly): Who could study with two twins at home?

I don't think much of any man who is not wiser today than he was yesterday.—Abraham Lincoln.

Camp Fire Party

The Aka Camp Fire Girls gave a Christmas party in the English room Wednesday, Dec. 18. The room was decorated with several Christmas trees and other decorations which helped bring out the Christmas spirit. After playing games, accompanied by some very original singing, a very delicious lunch was served. Everyone brought a small gift which was exchanged at the lunch hour. Those present were Marion Lewis, Jennie Graham, Elva Jorgensen, Wilmas Stearns, Lucille Von Eshen, Helen Maercklein, Florence Pederson, Catharine Barta, Thelma Collett and our two guardians, Miss Edwards and Miss Larson.

Class In Public Speaking Organized

Among the numerous subjects offered to the students of Ellendale High school this semester, a new subject has made its appearance. A class in Public Speaking has been organized, with Mr. Ingvalson as instructor. The main purpose of this class is to better the speech and to qualify the students to appear before an audience with ease. The chief work to be taken up will be debates, declamations, conversations, and the preparation and presentation of short talks. The class has an enrollment of 18 at the present.

O. K. Ehlers.—Late again. Have you ever done anything on time?

Russ W.—Yah, I bought a car on time.

Teacher to little girl, learning to write—"But where is the dot over the i?"

"It's in the pencil yet."

A Dark Mystery

The teachers of E. H. S. are asking the readers of the Cardinal to help them solve a very deep mystery.

This is the situation. Upon arriving at school Wednesday noon, Jan. 29, the teachers each discovered a unique white envelope with his or her name inscribed upon it.

The opening of the envelope was the beginning of the mystery, for the supposed envelope proved to be nothing more, or less, than a snowman wearing a red hat and having inscribed upon him a mysterious invitation, asking each teacher to an official tea, nothing less, to be held in the teacher's rest room, Thursday at 4:15 o'clock, and signed by the Snowmen's Association.

The students also have a part in this because, upon returning Thursday noon, they all noticed the disappearance of the stage furniture. This may, or may not, be connected with the mystery. However, they hope that the furniture will be returned soon. And another thing, Miss Edwards was excused from gym the last hour Thursday morning.

Since no name appeared on the invitation, we are at a loss as to who the members of the Snowman's Association might be.

The revealing of the names of the members of this association will be of great help to us in solving our problem.

We ask for your cooperation and help, and assure you that there will be a detailed account of the tea and the solution of the mystery in the next issue of the Cardinal.

Florence and Genevieve Entertain

Florence Hermansen and Genevieve Carss entertained a group of their friends Monday evening, Dec. 30, at the Bergstreser home. Games were played until a late hour when a lunch was served by the hostesses. Those present were: Elva Jorgensen, Marie Kirschner, Thelma Collett, Helen Maercklein and Opal Thompson. The decorations were appropriate to the holiday season. Everyone had a very enjoyable time.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTESJunior High Party

The eighth graders entertained the Freshies at a Christmas Party, Friday evening, Dec. 20. The evening was spent playing games, after which a lunch was served. This was followed by the distribution of gifts from the tree.

Everyone reported a good time.

On Dec. 26, the Freshman girls Hiking club enjoyed an afternoon with Mrs. Strand, their former teacher, at the home of Mrs. Spencer Graham. After enjoying a time of social chat, the girls presented Mrs. Strand with a gift of remembrance.

The following people have been absent from school on account of the mumps: Viola Struck, Dorothy Heimke and Harold Schneck.

The Girls' Hiking club have decided to discontinue their hiking for a few months, because of the cold weather. A series of health talks will be given instead of the usual hiking.

Cardinals 29—Ellendale All-Stars 16

The Cardinals won another game this season by defeating the Ellendale All-Stars. The game was not scheduled until two days before the game, and, therefore, was not widely advertised; hence the lack of a crowd. It was merely a practice game before the Cardinals clashed with them again. Neither team showed good form and there were no outstanding stars on either side.

Welcome, James

We welcome into our midst a new sophomore, James Moore, a former resident of Wallace, Idaho. He is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. C. Abraham, with whom he and his mother are now living.

H. S. DOPESTERS UPSET BUCKET

Friday, Feb. 21, the Cardinals journeyed to Oakes to take part in an invitational tournament to be held there in the afternoon and evening. The four teams taking part were: Lisbon, Oakes, LaMoure, and Ellendale. This was not a subdistrict or an official meet of any kind, but just a meet to see who had the best team in this part of the state. Lisbon was favored to take it, but the Cardinals, the dark horse team, upset the dope bucket and soused a goodly number of dopesters, it had been whispered that the best the "Cards" could do was to win fourth place. This, you admit, was not so good, and that is what the team thought too. And when somebody told them they weren't supposed to do the thinking, they took the hint and proceeded to bathe anybody who happened to be beneath the so-called dope bucket.

For the first game of the afternoon, Ellendale drew Oakes, with Lisbon and LaMoure playing the next.

The game started with a bang that is characteristic of all Oakes and Ellendale games. After about two seconds of play, by the village clock, a Cardinal warrior dropped a basket, (and his name was Ackert.) About two seconds later, by the same time piece, Captain Hill dropped one in. From this time on it happened too often to keep accurate check of. The score at the half time period was 8-5 in the Cardinal's favor.

In the second half the Cards fell in full swing and started a dazzling offense that completely bewildered the becalmed Tornados. When the final whistle blew, the "dark horses" had run up a score of 22 points to Oakes 9, Oakes being allowed only 4 points to the Cardinals 14 in the last half. This was the first game for some time that the Cardinals had played true to form. The promising spirit brought out in previous games came to light for the entire game. The offense worked almost up to par, though the defense at times was ragged.

After watching LaMoure trim Lisbon the team settled down for a rest. For

A HOUSE BUILT ON SAND

In March, 1928, the St. Francis Dam, holding back one of the reservoirs of the Los Angeles water supply, broke, and a rush of water, reaching at times a height of one hundred and fifty feet swept through the valley below the dam. Four hundred and fifty lives were lost and millions of dollars worth of property was damaged. The governor of California appointed a commission of engineers to investigate the tragedy. This commission reported that the dam itself was constructed in a faultless manner, that it could find no fault with the material that had been used. "Why then did the dam fail?" The commission answered this question in one, short, terse, statement. "The failure of St. Francis Dam was due to defective foundations." In school it is easy for us to obtain information on a great many different subjects without working very hard. With this rather superficial information, we are usually able to get through most of our examinations, to "get by" as we say. We may also find that with this meager knowledge we are able to make a good impression upon other people, at least upon most of the people with whom we come in contact. Someday, however, we will be put to the acid test. We will be put to a very thorough test on some subject that we have pretended we knew something about. On the outcome of that examination will depend our success or failure in life. If we have been in the habit of "getting by" without working very hard, without going deeply into the subject, without mastery, we will fail. It is in this manner that judgment is passed upon our lives. It will be said of us: "His life was a failure because of defective foundations."—E. C. Ingvalson.

The Rev. Mr. Jones Gives Talk

The Rev. Mr. A. R. Jones gave an interesting talk as a special feature of our Y. C. L. meeting last Friday. He chose as his subject, "There's A Reason," and gave many interesting facts as to the value of an education and what an education really is. Everyone enjoyed his talk and sincerely hopes that he will come again.

LAUGHS! SHRIEKS! SCREAMS! FREAKS!

Plans are now underway for a carnival to be held March 21 in the High school. The Senior student body cast a unanimous vote in favor of another Spizerinctum. With such backing the 1930 Spizerinctum should remain unsurpassed. Committee chairmen have been appointed, and the committees are as follows:

Novelties: Jennie Graham, chairman; Genevieve Carss, and Myron Jury.

Program: Marion Lewis, chairman; Panzy Gallagher, Lola Crandall, and Monica Wentzel.

Finance: Florence Pederson, chairman; Gordon Graham, and Edward Taylor.

Construction: Harry Witte, chairman; Francis Ackert, Ivan Thompson, and Walter Schmierer.

Lunch Stand: Wilma Stearns, chairman; Glenna Sprouse, Irene Sprouse, and Frances Linnell.

Advertising: Florence Hermansen, chairman; Olin Minton, Carl Webster, and Elva Jorgensen.

Booths: Wayne Hill, chairman; Gordon Graham, Andrew Hull, and Genevieve Carss.

Decorating: Marie Kirschner, chairman; Thelma Collett, Eugene Chute, and Walter Schmierer.

Carnival Queen: Catherine Barta, chairman; Lola Crandall, Lucille Von Eschen, and Helen Maercklein.

The proceeds from this carnival will go to the Aka Campfire group, the Cardinal, and Boys' Athletics.

We're all out for a bigger--better--funnier Spizerinctum. Just study the list of committees and see what's in store for each one. You'll be able to buy squealers and ticklers at Jennie's stand; then, on to Maynard's stand in order to fill your pockets full of tickets for the evening's fun. Try out your skills as sharp-shooters or weight-lifters at the booths. Before your supply of tickets has given out, visit Wilma and her Carnival Cooks to replenish your energy. Doesn't this sound like the promise of a good peppy time?

Wise indeed is he who knows how little he knows.—Elmer Witte.

Our Spirit

Keep it up! The spirit that we have shown the past several weeks is just a sample of what we are capable of.

Can't you see what it has done? It helped win the Invitational Tournament at Oakes last Friday evening. This alone should be enough to make us continue the enthusiasm that we have begun to show.

How many of us have been discouraged at times by our team's failure when victory was almost sure? Too many of us have been. We failed, however, to realize where the fault really lay; the fault lay with us.

The team is working for all of us. It is just as much our interest as theirs whether the game is won or not. We have to show them how much we really want them to win. Realizing our interest, they will fight for the honor of winning, and to up-hold the traditions of their school.

Our spirit helped win the tournament at Oakes. Let it also help to win the district Tournament at Jamestown, which is to be held March. 7 and 8.

Senior Grammar

The mighty seniors have at last found a subject that taxes to capacity their highly developed minds. This subject is Senior Grammar. The text contains twenty problems, each consisting of a number of exercises. There are a minimum number of problems required for each week, but a student may work as much over this minimum as he chooses. After each problem is finished, a test is given on the complete problem. If these tests are not perfect, a second test must be given.

We are very proud of the fact that we have been able at several times to prove that there are errors in the key of our texts.

Besides being a beneficial subject, it is also very interesting, as everyone strives to keep ahead, or at least keep up with the other students of the class.

Now We Know!

Now we know why each teacher discovered a unique white envelope containing a mysterious invitation to a tea to be held in the teacher's rest room at 4:15 o'clock on Thursday, Jan. 30! Now we know why the stage furniture so mysteriously disappeared and why Miss Edwards was excused from gym the last hour on this said Thursday! And now we know the names of the members of the Snow-Man's association. Do you?

The "unofficial members of the Snow Man's association" were no other than Miss Leona Edwards and Miss Josephine Wycoff, both teachers in the Ellendale Public school. Now you see why Miss Edwards was absent from gym. If you should chance to glance into the teacher's rest room, you would soon understand what became of the stage furniture, for it is now cozily arranged there. And should you chance to ask any of the teachers as to the success of the tea, we are sure that they would assure you that Miss Edwards and Miss Wycoff were very splendid hostesses.

As this event proved to be such a success, the teachers are looking forward to many similar occasions, which will greatly relieve the monotony of their role as teacher.

C. F. Pep Meeting

Ellendale, N. Dak.,
February 4, 1930.

Dear Archibald:

My mind is still distracted from my studies--but first to explain myself. On the day of the Oakes game the last period in the morning I was peacefully concentrating on my Entomology, when suddenly I was perturbed and bewildered by the flic-flac of feet accompanied by the ever melodious "Rah rah, rah, rah, rah!" Looking up I saw a group of the feminine sex coming from either side of the stage showing an unusual display of spizerinctum. Putting aside my Entomology book, I carefully readjusted my spectacles and prepared to see this extraordinary performance.

I was so amazed at the vivacious gestures and actions, that not quite knowing what I did, I reached for my Entomology (seizing the dictionary by an oversight, on my part) and rushed upon the stage in a state of complete exhaustion. Abruptly those atrocious and turbulent sounds ceased, the partakers of the amusement gaped at me dumbfounded, and then, with cries of persuasion they enticed me to join their happy assemblage.

The rest of the student body followed my example, and our cheers echoed and re-echoed throughout the entire institution of learning. I am positive that "the three cheers" must have been invented for the Aka Camp Fire Girls.

Yours with reverential regards,
OSWALD.

Who is Moby Dick?

"Moby Dick", one of the new books, has a title that stimulates the imagination. You might at first think that he is the hero of some dime novel, a thrilling pirate of the high seas.

If you'd really like to know who he is or what he is, read "Moby Dick" by Herman Melville. You will find that it is an adventurous story of the sea, with all its mystery and beauty, and it is told in such a way that no other sea story can quite equal it.

Have You Noticed?

My dear, have you noticed that perfectly adorable red tie that Wayne is wearing? It's really too sweet for words. I mean it actually is. I'm positive, my dear, that Santa Claus didn't bring it to him, because the first time he wore it was on the day after the Valley City game. And some one had to wear dark glasses for three days. Can you equal that?

Something New

The cap and gown is a symbolic custom that has been handed down through many generations, from the time when this dignified and expressive costume was worn by all scholars.

In medieval times the monks were the greatest scholars and consequently wore caps and gowns, and to the layman these garments always represented high scholarly attainment.

In later years men of letters adhered to this custom, and today we find the cap and gown used as a distinctive insignia of the clergy, high judicials, and scholars in our institutions of higher learning as a symbol of attainment.

So it is with us. We, the senior class of 1930, believe that we are justified in wearing these garments for baccalaureate and commencement this year.

We also believe that they eliminate the rivalry of dress and personal decoration that results in the heartaches and dissatisfaction to our graduation class. It also places each senior on an equal basis on the night of graduation.

Weather Report

Unexpected disturbances of the atmosphere any time in Commercial Law (the most surprising exams at the least waited for moment); a little warmer in Latin II (just finished Hannibal's death and Scipio's career); rather favorable and more spring-like in Present Day Problems (finished the conservation of the bovine animals and the swine, and starting to conserve the flowers and plants); and rather frigid in Geometry (the eleven brilliant students struggling with sines, cosines, and tangents.)

CARDINALS WIN FOUR PERIOD OVERTIME GAME

Fresh from their decisive victories at the Oakes tournament, and confident in this new found strength, the "Cards" avenged their previous defeat at the hands of Valley City, on Thursday, by trouncing them 27-21 in a game capped by four overtime periods.

The first half was rather slow. Walt sank the first basket of the game when V. C. came back strong to sink three in rapid succession. This somewhat upset the Cardinal offense, and when the half ended, the score stood 10-7 in Valley City's favor.

The second half started out more or less of a long shot game. The "Cards" doing some close guarding and manning to find the loop, crept up on the Valley City squad, and when the game ended, the score was 19-19. The first overtime period was a bit of tight playing; only long shots were attempted. No scores were made, a fact which resulted in the playing of another overtime period. There was no scoring in this period until about the last half minute, when Walt sank a pretty, long one. Ellendale's attempting to stall resulted in V. C.'s intercepting a pass and sinking a basket to make the score 21-21.

Then followed another period of long shooting, neither team succeeding in connecting. During the fourth overtime period, Walt started out by sinking a long one. Then Harry sank one and Wayne climaxed it. When the period was over, the "Cards" had won a hard fought victory by a score 27-21.

The "Cards" in this game failed to function up to normal on their passing game. Practically all the baskets made were long ones. The defense was rather loose the first half with the result that V. C. outscored them 10-7. The second half they tightened up and out scored V. C. 20-11.

The Scout Trail

Ellendale Scouts celebrated Anniversary Week, Feb. 8-15, with many and varied activities. The purpose of this week is to celebrate the birthday of the Scout Movement. On Anniversary night, Feb. 8, Scouts gathered for a short meeting. At exactly 8:15 o'clock central time, Scouts joined in repeating the Oath and Law, knowing that at the same hour thousands of Scouts all over the United States were doing the same thing, rededicating themselves to this splendid pledge.

An invitation had been extended to the troop to attend church in a body on Sunday evening. The Rev. Mr. A. R. Jones gave us a splendid address suitable to the occasion. On Wednesday evening the Scout mothers gave the boys and their dads a splendid banquet. In connection with this the boys gave a program for their mothers and dads, in which scouting activities were emphasized.

Just now we are most interested in an Advancement Contest sponsored by the Red River Valley Council to which Troop 32 belongs. This contest closes May 1. For every Tenderfoot we can give ourselves three points, for every boy who attains Second Class ten points, for First Class 11 points, for each merit badge 3 points, and for attaining Eagle rank ten points.

Who's Who?

I really enjoy taking gym, not only because of the exercises and basketball, but also because I have an opportunity to watch someone whom I greatly admire.

Tall and athletic, she takes the ball, and with gestures and illustrations she explains carefully how to shoot a ball to the basket or how to pass the ball with good team work. In her good looking blue sweater and skirt she makes a striking appearance. To expedite matters she blows the whistle, and again we play basketball.

There is nothing unfair in this game because she is one that believes in good fair play.

We all know, of course, that Lincoln's birthday is the twelfth of February, and in some way or other this day is always celebrated. The students of Ellendale High school chose to celebrate it this year by singing several patriotic songs. In this manner Ellendale High students celebrated Washington's birthday, but as the twenty-second came on Saturday this year, the celebration was held on Friday, Feb. 21, during the assembly period.

Fire In Chemistry Lab.

Fireman, save that child! Once more someone attempts to relieve the monotony by tipping over an alcohol lamp in the chemistry laboratory. But to make the occasion exceptional, Bobbie's shoes ignite, much to his amazement. Due to the fact that his feet become hot, Bobbie stamps about, frantically searching for some way to relieve himself of his misery. Immediately Mr. Ehlers comes dashing to his rescue with a chemistry apron and extinguishes the flames. All too soon (for the onlookers) the excitement is ended.

Begin now to save your pennies as they will come in handy when the time of the election for the Carnival Queen comes!

Aka Camp Fire Council

The Aka Camp Fire Girls held a council fire meeting Thursday, Feb. 13. The usual proceedings took place and five new members were taken in. They were Thelma Collett, Lucille Von Eschen, Helen Maercklein, Genevieve Carss, and Florence Hermansen. One of the girls, Jennie Graham, received honor beads.

The project to sponsor a Carnival as a means of raising money was discussed. The girls came to the conclusion that it would be a good plan, if they could get the support of the entire student body. However, nothing was definitely decided.

A delicious lunch brought the meeting to a close.

Alumnis Entertain

On Thursday evening, Feb. 13, Marie Furan entertained a number of her friends at her home. Whist was played until a late hour when a delicious lunch was served by the hostess. The decorations and favors were symbolic of St. Valentine.

Ella Davis received the grand prize and Marjorie Ochiltree the consolation.

Those present were the Misses Irene and Mildred Moore, Ella Davis, Catharine Barta, Cravella Jenkins, Marjorie Ochiltree, Stella Bergstreser, Magda Hermansen, Zachary Taylor, and Julia Ridder.

Public Speaking Class

Much headway has been made in the Public Speaking class. Each member of the class has memorized a selection and these have been presented to the class during the class hour. The selections that have been given have been very well presented and very suitable to the speaker. Later in the course each pupil will give another short declamation.

Who's Who?

He enters the room slowly as if time and tide will wait for him. He leisurely takes a seat and waits patiently for class to begin.

If he notices that the class discussion is getting dull, he enlivens it by saying, "I heard later it wasn't so."

COMING EVENTS

Tuesday, Mar. 11, Girls' Declamation contest.

Friday, Mar. 7, Orpheus Club, (Lyceum number).

Friday and Saturday, March 7 and 8, District Tournament, Jamestown.

Friday, March 21, High School annual "Spizerinctum" Carnival.

Friday, April 11, Operetta, "Courtship of Miles Standish."

Friday, April 25, District Music and Declamation Contest, N. I.

Oakes-Ellendale, Feb. 4.

In this game Ellendale refused to function either defensively or offensively. Oakes sank enough baskets to hand them a drubbing to the tune of 18-13.

Barnard-Ellendale, Feb. 7

After letting Barnard outscore them, the Cards came back the second half to take the game by a 23-12 score. The Cards found some of their power the second half and made use of it.

Aberdeen-Ellendale Seconds, Feb. 8

Saturday afternoon Mr. Ehlers took some Cardinal nestlings to Aberdeen to play and take Christie's Jr. High boys by a score of 12-5. The young Cards, encouraged by their big brothers' victory the night before, could not be held in check.

Valley City-Ellendale, Feb. 11

This was probably the most discouraging game of the season. The team failed to show any of the pep and go which they displayed in the Barnard game. Failing to find the loop often enough, they met a defeat by a 23-13 score.

Ashley-Ellendale, Feb. 13

Playing a nice offensive game and showing a great deal of fight, the Cardinals nevertheless, failed to hold Ashley. They were the fastest breaking team they had met, and Ellendale could not cope with them defensively. The score was 21-16.

LaMoure-Ellendale, Feb. 18

Suffering a second defeat at the hands of LaMoure, the Cards failed to hold the LaMoure long shot artists and consequently were defeated 22-15. In this game, however, they showed some fight that had been resting some time.

PRESENTATION OF THE BASKET BALL TROPHY

On Monday morning, Feb. 24, the Junior and Senior High assembled to receive the basket ball trophy which our boys so gloriously won at the Oakes Invitational Tournament on Friday evening.

Coach Ehlers gave a short summary of the games, and he also revealed to us a great secret: to do away with his excess supply of energy during games he carries an ample supply of gum. Each of the boys was called upon to say a few words. "Gene" believed it was his brilliant tie that helped them win the tournament. Wayne, the captain, thanked Coach Ehlers, on behalf of the team, for the splendid work he has done this year. Then he presented the trophy to Mr. Ingvalson while the entire student body applauded.

E. H. S. DOPESTERSUPSET BUCKET

supper (and Ripley says, "Believe it or not") they got steak! The usual menu is poached eggs on toast.

For the first game in the evening Oakes clashed with Lisbon for consolation honors. This game was won by Lisbon.

Immediately following this game, Ellendale and LaMoure took the floor. The outlook for the "Cards" in this game wasn't so good, as LaMoure had defeated them twice before. But the "Cards" went into the game with the same spirit as that of the man who said, "Never say die, until the last dog is shot." The dark horses started the scoring and maintained the lead throughout the game. The first half ended with the "Cards" holding a six point lead. Having succeeded in holding LaMoure one foul for the second half the Cardinals came back stronger than ever, and when the final whistle blew the score was 21-7. The defense of the so-called "dark horses" was almost air tight, only three field goals being allowed LaMoure. Ackert probably was the outstanding player of the game. Besides holding up his share of the offense, he played an air tight defensive game. Walt and Wayne, however, led the scoring in both games.

Ellendale held the lead throughout the game. Only once did LaMoure threaten; then they came within 2 points of Ellendale.

"After the ball was over", the Ellendale "dark horses" were presented with a fine silver trophy.

This is the second year Oakes has put on a tournament; and they are to be congratulated for the way they carry them out. The promptness and dispatch of the games and interest aroused and, above all, the fine spirit of friendly competition of the Oakes students and teams is a thing that makes tournaments like these a success in more ways than one. Here's to you, Oakes!

Who's Who?

The bell rings and in strolls a tall and handsome youth, clad in the fad of the school--a black sweater displaying a large "E" on his manly chest and two cardinal stripes on his left sleeve. His athletic fame has spread far and wide. This good natured and easy going young fellow is a friend of all and one we are proud to have in our schools.

"Little boy, don't you know what becomes of boys who use such bad language when they play marbles?"

"Yes'm, they grow up and play golf."

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

The Wetomachick Camp Fire Girls met at a Council Fire, Feb. 4. Four new members joined the group. They are Helen Griffin, Frances Reed, Minerva Rostomily, and Miriam Workman. After the regular ceremony a short program was given. Several girls gave short talks on parts of the law, which is to seek beauty, give service, pursue knowledge, be trustworthy, hold on to health, glorify work, and be happy. Caroline Newman read an interesting little poem, Jean Crabtree played a lovely piano solo, and Ruth Gibson gave a vocal solo. At this meeting Viola Struck became a woodgatherer. Many honor beads were awarded to the girls. We adjourned to meet on Feb. 11.

The Camp Fire Girls delightfully entertained their mothers at a tea Tuesday evening, Feb. 11. A short program was given by the girls, after which the ladies enjoyed a time of social chat. A delicious lunch of ice cream, cake, and tea was then served.

Junior High Party

The Junior High boys were entertained by the Junior High girls at a Valentine costume party, Friday evening, Feb. 14. The evening was spent playing games until about 10:30 when a lunch was served. The remainder of the evening was spent in distributing valentines from the valentine box. This was rather a novelty in our program.

Mr. Ingvalson gave us a fine compliment Monday morning on the good sportsmanship of our party, and the way in which everyone entered into the pleasure of the evening.

"Shakespeare certainly knew his eggs."

"How do you know?"

"Didn't he write a play called (H)Omlet?"

Sailor: "When I was shipwrecked once, I lived on a cracker for a week."

Waitress: "Gee, you must have found it hard to move around."

WILL, WORK, WIN!

IS CLASS VALEDICTORY

Catharine Barta.

(Excerpts from Valedictory)

Parents, classmates, teachers, friends and Board of Education. It has become my pleasure as well as my duty to speak the last few words of fare well. It has become almost a tradition in our school that the valedictorian speak on the motto. My class of 1930 have chosen for their motto: Will, Work, Win, because we believe that that is the key to success in life.

Let us pause for a moment and consider the first of the three goals of attainment, "Will." It has been written: "The real difference between men is energy: a strong will, a settled purpose, an invincible determination can accomplish almost anything, and in this lies the distinction between great men and little men." Will means, in our motto, the incentive behind effort, a desire to obtain something hoped for, a determination to gain, yet not to gain, worldly things at the cost of others around us. But may the will of our motto have a higher more worthy motive force. Let us not will merely personal success measured in careers, in money, or in power, but also the earnest desire to develop the worth while, the finer qualities, the less base and material and more spiritual. We will, that is, we desire and aspire, as Channing puts it, "To live content with small means, to seek elegance rather than luxury, and refinement rather than fashion; to be worthy, not respectable; and wealthy, not rich; to listen to the stars and birds, babes and sages with open heart; to study hard, to think quietly, await occasions, hurry never, and in a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious, grow up through the common, the every day, the ordinary activities of life.

The enthusiasm of working for the greatest good for the greatest number is a desire that has lifted many a man up and on in the struggle of manual labor, of spiritual, scientific, professional, literary, and artistic effort.

Great minds and great scholars have been buoyed up by the hope of making

JUNIORS AGAIN GIVE BANQUET FOR SENIORS

The Junior-Senior banquet, the most important social event of the year, was held May 23, at six-thirty in the high school gymnasium.

The efficient decoration committee; consisting of Helen Maercklein, chairman, Florence Hermansen, Bertha Schaller, Wayne Hill and Gordon Graham, succeeded by some magic to turn the cold and unsightly gymnasium into a beautiful Japanese garden of lattice work in the class colors, lavender and gold. Japanese lanterns were suspended from the lattice work ceiling, and in baskets about the room were numerous bouquets of lilacs. Two bouquets of yellow roses, the class flower, were placed on pedestals between the tables.

The tables, too, were very festive with yellow tapers, miniature Japanese parasol place cards, yellow nut baskets, Japanese fans as favors, and hand painted menus and programs in Japanese design.

Sophomore girls, dressed in gorgeous Japanese costumes, waited on table.

The menu of the very delicious banquet was as follows:

Fruit Cocktail

Creamed Chicken Mashed Potatoes
Buttered Carrots Rolls

SENIOR ARCHIVES

CLASS OF 1930

(Jennie Graham and Marian Lewis)

In the fall of twenty-six, a group of thirty-five anxious and ambitious knowledge seekers, entered the assembly hall to begin our journey through high school. The bleak, rainy weather did not dampen our spirits; we were full of pep. One week after our work had begun, Melvin Griffin joined our class, giving us a total of thirty-six members. We organized our class early and elected the following officers: Melvin Griffin, president; Jennie Graham, vicepresident; and Marian Lewis secretary-treasurer; Miss Stinson and Miss Carrol, Class advisors.

We were too ambitious and our class was too large to take much advice from our supervisors; but nevertheless when the time for the tradition of Freshie initiation came, we received all the grudges of the seniors good naturedly.

Our mighty supervisors exerted all their strength to herd us down Main street. There they made us yell for them, and then they chased us at an exceedingly terrific speed back to the high school. Some of us enjoyed for the entire evening the dark musty storeroom with all its horrors and lack of air. Others were forced to indulge in other pastimes. We were too tired to enter into the merriment of the evening, but needless to say, we felt much better acquainted when the initiation was over.

Then we settled down to work, but our studious group was soon interrupted by a Sophomore party, which we thoroughly enjoyed. It was not long before we had returned their hospitality by giving a Valentine party on the twelfth of February. The first year we did not take part in either literary or athletic activities, but applied ourselves to work.

The fall of 1927 found a peppy crowd of sophomores chuck full of spirit, eager to start on an active year and grab all the honors within reach. We found that five new members had joined our class to take the place of those who had left us. They were Hazel Martin, Panzy Gallagher, Ruth

An Analysis of The American Youth

(Excerpts from the Salutatory)

Jennie Graham

In every age it has been necessary to change the form of natural resources, the place of natural resources, and to store material resources and their products for future use. To do this, it has been necessary to make use of labor, tools, and enterprise. But in this age in which we live these things are used quite differently than they were in the ages that have gone.

The family at the beginning of the nineteenth century was quite independent of the rest of the community for the things that it required. The home was in many respects, home, church, school, and factory. Under such conditions the ways of living were easily understood. There was very little amusement to relieve the monotony of every day life, because it was confined to simple home games and family gatherings. Contact with the outside world was limited, books were expensive, and newspapers were very scarce. A hundred-mile journey was an event of a life-time. The youth of yesterday lived in a quiet, calm, still, isolated world. With the advancement of the nineteenth century came new discoveries and inventions. The beginning of the twentieth century marked the most wonderful century of progress in the world.

Inventions have brought our world much closer together. Physically and mentally this is an age of great activity, of speed. New inventions have also brought great wealth and prosperity and physical comfort.

Because of this changing economic world youth too has changed. Youth today, because of this change in the economic world, has its own ideas, its own tastes, and its own whims and fancies. It also has money to spend. Youth has grown up in an atmosphere of abundance and carefree spending that was quite uncommon in the nineteenth century.

The youth of today like the youth of yesterday has three major external influences that play upon him: parents, education, and environment. To the parents, the three are so interwoven that they cannot be separated. To us, however, they represent three distinct meanings. We often oppose, we ignore, we evade our parents, not through lack of love or respect, but because the world is new and interesting and we must fit ourselves into it and not into the old world that we have no knowledge of.

Youth is rash, optimistic, venturesome; he is sure on all subjects; he neither can profit nor desires to profit by the experience of others; he wants to discover for himself if life is genuine. He wants to lead off into new avenues that are opening every where.

Education, too, is different. The outstanding characteristic of the new education is the emphasis on self expression. Without education, youth of today believes no man or woman can reach the highest standards of success. But, we believe, education does not consist entirely of book learning; it consists of every thing we know. Our education comes, or should come from our daily experiences in life. Our education in school should turn our experiences to better use that life may yield more that is worth while.

The youth of yesterday regarded religion as something to be feared. Today through environment, through teachers who understand youth, and through better methods of presenting religion, the youth has been made to feel a part of it. Religion is not a convention with them. They practice the Golden Rule, not because they feel it their duty, but because they feel the positive need of it. Shams, pretention, and make-believe have gone.

Knowledge, or the broad channels through which we have done away with that one track mind, is perhaps the most outstanding quality that we can claim. Interwoven with knowledge are efficiency, accuracy, speed, frankness, and courtesy.

But we are not contented. We realize that we are very defective. We realize that wisdom comes only through experiences, which we hope to gain when we go out into the world and begin our life work. George Eliot says, "There is no short-cut, no patent tramroad, to wisdom." After all the centuries of inventions, the soul's path lies through the thorny wilderness which must still be trodden in solitude, with bleeding feet, with sobs for help, as it was trodden by those of old times. As you, our parents and elders have trodden the road of life, so must we tread it in this new age which is ours.

SENIOR PLAY IS A HOWLING SUCCESS

A hideous laugh, thunder and lightning, a weird wind, startling noises off stage, red lanterns hung about the room—these were some of the things that added deep mystery to the Senior Class play. "The Laughing Guest," a three act farce comedy, given at the Opera House, May 9.

In the story, Mrs. Van Horn has just purchased the Hoyt mansion, and together with her daughter, Alice, is awaiting the arrival of the guests she has invited for a house warming.

Hardly has the first guest arrived when Randall, the butler, brings in a mysterious letter signed "The Laughing Guest". From then on all are victims of thievery and unexplainable happenings, and are driven almost to the point of distraction by the mocking voice; "Ha, ha, ha, ha! I am the Laughing Guest! Ha, ha." Now one is certain it is Dr. Williams, with his mania for inoculations, who is the laughing guest; then suspicion shifts to Richard, who is bent on eloping with Alice; then to Jennie, the maid; and even the Reverend Mr. Smith. DuBeck, the detective, deepens the mystery and accuses Dr. Holmes, the health officer, as well as everyone else of being the "Laughing Guest," but is, in the end, discovered to be the Laughing Guest himself, a lunatic escaped from the asylum, and a son of the former owner of the Hoyt mansion.

The following were the cast in the order of their appearance:

Jennie, a maid --- Frances Carpenter
Randall, the butler..Russell Wenkstern
Mrs. Van Horn, a society matron ---

----- Jennie Graham
Alice Van Horn, her daughter -----

----- Catharine Barta

Richard Farrell, a young admirer of Alice ----- Ivan Thompson

Florence Winters, a rather sedate young lady ----- Penzy Gallagher

Dr. Williams, a young doctor who admires Alice ----- Verrill Fischer

The Rev. Walter Smith, a young minister ----- Maynard Oliason

DuBeck, a detective with many disguises ----- Eugene Chute

Dr. Holmes, county health officer ---

----- Robert Hills
Assistant ----- Roscoe Ladd

It is impossible to speak of the individual work of each member of the cast; they were all stars and played with ease, naturalness, and charm.

We all enjoyed the play and feel that it was a success.

The Senior class is very sorry that it will be impossible for every member of the class to be together on the night of Graduation. We hope, Frances, that you will soon be well enough to return home.

E. H. S. Has Successful Year In Athletics

FOOTBALL

Our football season began with only a few veterans, but we had many good prospects, and after two weeks of stiff workouts under our new coach, Mr. Ehlers, the Cardinals showed their appreciation by winning their first game from Milnor by a large margin, the score being 14 to 7. The team seemed to function perfectly for the practice they had.

In the second game the Cards journeyed to Wishek and were defeated by one touchdown. The boys were within scoring distance several times but seemed to lack the final lunge.

The next game was played with La-Moure on their field against a decidedly heavier team, but the Cards managed to keep their end of the score even with the heavier team, the game being a tie, 6 to 6. The local team, however, was within a few inches of scoring the second time.

The next game was played with our ancient rivals, Oakes. The game was played on one of the worst days of Ellendale's football history. The Cards were beaten by a 7 to 6 score during a driving rain.

Ellendale lost another game the following week to Frederick by the same score of 7 to 6. The local team made their touchdown early in the game and had a decided advantage through the game until a long pass to a Frederick end was successfully completed. Frederick also made their extra point through a line plunge.

In the last game of the season the Cards had lots of fun, running away with the Edgeley team by the score of 42 to 7.

The football team ran up a total score of 74 points to their opponents' 39.

BASKETBALL

Opening the basketball season with about thirty men reporting for practice, Coach Ehlers started the season by playing Ashley at Ashley. Probably due to the small floor and lack of practice, the Cards met defeat to the tune of 16 to 11. Two more weeks of good hard practice and coach whipped his men into shape to take Barnard into camp by a 11 to 6 score.

After Christmas the Cards came back strong to take our old rivals by a score of 22 to 11. After playing hard to defeat Oakes, the Cardinals took a set back when they allowed La-Moure to beat them by a score of 23 to 7. During two weeks of idleness following this game, the Cardinals won one game and lost one from without the League. The All-Stars, the Cards, easily took, but the DeMolays were a bit tougher and handed the Cards a 20 to 10 trimming.

Going to Oakes the following week, the Cards failed to get going and lost a hard game in which the lead alternated several times. The score was 18 to 13 in favor of Oakes. Coming out from behind at the half time period, the Cards made a sensational come back to win by a score of 22 to 15.

In a game which was marred by slow floor work and bad passing, the Cardinals were defeated by the Valley City College High school by a score of 22 to 14.

Ashley played their return game with us and won the game after a hard bitter struggle. The score was 26 to 21.

Going to Oakes to participate in a tournament as dark horses, the Cards played a superior and dazzling brand of ball to take Oakes in the first game by a score of 20 to 9. This won us the right to play La-Moure, who had won their first game. The evening game looked bad for the Cards, considering the fact that La-Moure had already defeated them twice. However, the bucket was upset, and Ellendale took the lead and held it to win by a 21 to 7 score.

The next week the Cards atoned for their previous defeat by the Valley City College High school and began trouncing them in a 4 over time period, to end with a score of 27 to 21.

After a week of polishing, the Cards went to Jamestown to enter the tournament of this district, meeting Carington in the first game. The Cards started a brilliant passing attack that won them the game by a score of 26 to 13.

Playing La-Moure in the second game a tough battle was anticipated. La-Moure was out for blood and at the end of the first quarter led the Cards by a 10 to 0 score. Starting the most sensational rally of the tournament, the Cards came up to lead La-Moure by a 12 to 11 score at half time. The second half was more or less of a walk away for the Cards who won 26 to 13 and won also the right to meet Jamestown.

Being favored to take Jamestown, the Cards failed to do so. The score was close at all times, though at quarter time Jamestown led by eight points. At half time the Cards had crept to within one point of them. The last quarter Jamestown took a spurt which Ellendale could not stop and lost to the Blue Jays by a 31 to 26 score.

Playing the consolation game in the evening, the Cards won from Kensal, winning third place at the tournament and receiving the basket ball as a trophy.

Walter Schmierer and Wayne Hill played a brand of ball that placed them at guard and forward positions for the all-district team.

Playing eighteen games, the Cardinals somewhat out-pointed their opponents by scoring 341 points to their opponents 314 points.

TRACK

The track season opened, favoring us with fine weather for a while, but the last part of the season was too cold for good track work.

The Kiwanis Track Meet, which was held at Valley City on May 3rd, was the first meet of the season that we competed in. The Cardinals won the meet without many hardships. Walter won eighteen points, making him high point man. Wayne was second, receiving seventeen and ½ points. The Cardinals received a beautiful silver trophy cup for the victory.

The following week, the N. I. Annual Track and Field Meet was held. The Cardinals again took first place, winning sixty-three points. It was rather a slow meet due to cold, rainy weather. Wayne won twenty-five points, making him high point man. Walter was next, receiving twenty-three points.

This year made the third consecutive year the Cardinals have won this meet; therefore the silver cup became permanent property of E. H. S.

The Cardinals closed their season by attending the State Track Meet at Grand Forks on May 16 and 17. We took second place by receiving 20 points. This was a very fine ending for such a successful season. Bismarck took first place with 25½ points. Wayne broke the state record in the 220 low hurdles, doing them in 26 seconds flat. He took first in the high jump, first in the half-mile, and fourth in the 120 yard high hurdles. Walter took second in the pole vault and fourth in the broad jump. This is as good a record as any two men have ever made at a State Track Meet.

Prospects for a good track team next year are good. It will be hard to find someone to take Walter's place, but the time comes for us all when we must leave school. The likely candidates for next season are: Dawes, Beutow, Hull, E. Schmierer, Layer, Wenkstern, Wallis, Lewis, Witte, and others. Keep up the spirit, boys!

LOOKING AHEAD TEN YEARS

Catharine Barta is traveling in India. She is homesick and lonesome for home and friends; so she has decided to visit a crystal gazer to see if by chance she can get information about her former high school classmates.

As the crystal gazer unfolds a sketch of each classmate, here is what Catharine learns.

Ivan Thompson is a famous doctor. He has had this distinction only a short time, but his excellent work in surgery is making him renowned. His most efficient and able-bodied assistant is Jennie Graham. Her help is indispensable to him.

Marian Lewis is the society editor of the New York Times. She is recognized as one of the outstanding woman editors in the country.

Monica Wentzel is a popular and charming leader in New York society circles.

She found Robert Waddell in Russia, studying the educational conditions in schools there.

Lucille Von Eschen is the National Woman's Golf champion, who has broken all records set by her predecessors.

Eugene Chute is the Chief Detective on Chicago's police force.

Ada Waddell has held the title of Tennis champion for several years. She has succeeded Helen Wills as America's ideal of the tennis courts.

The remarkable bridge just constructed across Puget Sound is the work of Maynard Olason, who is well known

THE CLASS WILL

Ladies and Gentlemen, Board of Education, Superintendent, Teachers, and Friends:—

Upon behalf of my client, the Class of 1930, of Ellendale High School, of the city of Ellendale, State of North Dakota, U. S. A., I have called you together upon this solemn and serious occasion, to listen to her last will and testament, and to receive from her dying hand the few gifts she has to bestow in her last moments. Cutting so rapidly loose from life, and finding so many things of such gigantic proportions to be attended to before the end should come upon her, realizing at the same time that she no longer had any time left to spend in cultivation of her own virtues, she did, collectively and individually, deem it best to distribute these virtues with her own hands to those friends to whose needs they seem best fitted. As a result of this announcement a wild scene took place amidst most frantic pleading and scrambling among her friends for this or that so long coveted glory; but she has tried to be just, as well as generous and impartial, and distribute wisely, unto those who will make the best use of such gifts as she has in her power to bestow, the talents that have served her so faithfully these four years. These are her decisions, as at last definitely arrived at through very deliberate consideration. Owing to the flighty condition of her brain, and the unusual disturbance in its gray matter, she begs me to state for her that she may quite possibly have been mistaken in her inventory; but such things as she thinks she has, she hereby gives into your possession, praying that you will accept them as a sacred trust from one who has gone before.

Listen, then, one and all, while I read the document, as duly drawn up and sworn to:—

We, the Class of 1930, in twenty-eight individual and distinct parts, being about to pass out of this sphere of education, in full possession of a crammed mind, well-trained memory, and almost superhuman understanding, do make and publish this, our last will and testament, hereby revoking and making void all former wills or promises by us at any time heretofore made, or mayhap, carelessly spoken, one to the other, as the thoughtless wish of an idle hour.

And First we do direct that our funeral services shall be conducted by our friends and well-wishers, our superintendent and his all-wise and ever competent faculty, who have been our guardians for so long, only asking, as the last injunction of the dying, that the funeral be carried on with all the dignity and pomp that our worth, our merit, our attainments, and our position as Seniors of "grave and reverend mien" must certainly have deserved.

As to such estate as it has pleased the Fates and our own strong hands and brains to win for us, we do dispose of the same as follows:

We give and bequeath to the dear faculty, who have been our instructors in all the wisdom of the ages, a sweet and unbroken succession of restful nights and peaceful dreams. No longer need they lie awake through the long watches of the night to worry over the uncertainty of whether this one is doing her night work, or that one will have her mathematics in morning class, or the other one will remember every iron clad rule of compositional technique in the preparation of her essay. It has been a hard strain on them, for Seniors are said to be at all times and under all conditions difficult to manage. But they have all done their duty, and verily, now shall they have their well-earned reward. We also give to our beloved faculty all the amazing knowledge and startling information that we have furnished from time to time in our various examination papers. We know that much which we have imparted to them in this way must have been entirely new to them, as well as to all teachers and students everywhere, and would throw much new light on many a hitherto unfamiliar line of thought, through-out the whole world of science and learning, even outside the walls and halls of Ellendale High School. If the faculty see fit, they are hereby authorized to give out such of this information to the world as they may feel the world is ready to receive. We trust they will also feel at perfect liberty to make use of all such bits of wisdom and enlightenment for the education of the classes to come after us. This, of course, is left entirely to their personal discretion.

We give and bequeath to the Junior Class all such boys as were not able to keep pace with such brilliant girls as compose the majority of our class, trusting that the Junior girls may be able to hold firmly to them and steer them firmly next year through the gates of Commencement, that they may not share in the humiliation that has been ours at not being able to "hold our men folks"—as the women of the world would put it.

We likewise give and bequeath to this same Junior Class, as a student body, Robert Hills' and Ivan Thompson's knowledge of economics, philosophy, art, science, and the universe in whole or in part. We trust the class may be able to survive it.

The following may seem but trifling bequests, but we hope they may be accepted, not as worthless things lavishly thrown away because we can no longer keep them but as valuable assets to those who receive them and a continual reminder of the generosity of heart displayed in our free and full bestowal:

1st. To our Class-room teacher, Miss Onsrud, the profound admiration and ever-enduring friendship of the class of 1930, in individual as well as collective manifestation.

2nd. To Miss Edwards, the balance of our class treasury, to be used in buying a pair of rubber shoes for detective work. We feel she will be sure to need these in dealing with the classes that are to be our successors.

3rd. To the football team of next year, the ability of Eugene Chute and Harry Witte. We couldn't induce Walter Schmierer to surrender his.

4th. To all the future class Presidents, Jennie Graham's ability to convince Professor Ingvalson of the said President's unerring judgment.

5th. To Marian Brown, Glenna Sprouse's gift of gab.

6th. To Marie Kirschner, Clifford Skoglund's histrionic gifts.

7th. To Gordon Graham, the secret of Robert Waddell's methods of playing baseball.

8th. To some benighted Freshman—anybody who will accept it as it is yet unclaimed—Florence Pederson's troubles as class Treasurer.

9th. To Carl Webster, Eugene Chute's detective ability.

10th. To the Freshman Class that is to be—any overlooked cuds of gum we may have left adhering to the under-side of desks, assembly seats or any likely or unlikely places. We have sometimes had to rid ourselves of these in too much haste to pick and choose the most desirable means of disposal.

11th. To Donovan Lewis, Russel's ancestors. We feels that he will not need them any more. He can face the world with his own gift of Gab.

12th. To Buddie Minton, Verrill Fischer's executive ability, but not his beauty. He'll still feel the need of that, he fears, and wouldn't be coaxed or cajoled into leaving it behind, even with Buddie, who needs it so badly.

13th. To Marian Hubbard, the musical gifts of Marian Lewis. "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast."

14th. To Bud Taylor, Catharine Barta's Ford. She feels she can survive without it.

The subjoined list will be recognized as entailed estate, to which we do declare the Class of 1930 the real and right successors:

1st. Our seats in Class-room chapel. May they endeavor to fill them as advantageously, as promptly and as faithfully as we have done. Our seats in Assembly Hall may be taken by whosoever is able to grab them first.

2nd. Our Senior dignity. May they

Harry Witte has just broken all the world flying records. He is the hero of American school boys who wish that they might be famous aviators someday.

Wilma Stearns is responsible for the happiness and content in many homes. She is the authority on Household Hints, and her articles appear monthly in the "Good Housekeeping."

Russell Wenkstern is entertaining crowds before the foot lights in Broadway. His partner and accompanist is Frances Carpenter, who sways crowds with the rhythm in her fingers.

Verrill Fischer is an eminent psychologist and is working in European countries for the Extension department of Columbia University.

Martha Gerling and Gladys Fox are in Alaska. They are endeavoring to improve the living conditions of the natives.

Walter Schmierer has succeeded Coach Rockne at Notre Dame.

Lola Crandell is at the head of a National Kindergarten school in Baltimore.

Panzy Gallagher has just published her second series of poems for children. Her rhymes will be as famous some day as Mother Goose tales.

There is a beauty contest in Miami, Florida, and Glenna Sprouse is Miss North Dakota.

In South Africa, Clifford Skoglund, professor of Entomology at the U. of Southern California, is busy collecting new specimens for his research work.

Out in the Rocky Mountains, Roscoe Ladd is Chief Forest Ranger, and with his large crew of men is doing memorable work.

Robert Hills, through perseverance and diplomacy, is the president of the University of North Dakota.

In the slums of New York, Ella Hansen is doing social welfare work. Hundreds of mothers are indebted to Ella for the able assistance and sound advice she has given them in her effort to raise their social standards.

In a court room, filled with spectators, the State's Attorney to plead in the State's behalf was Lloyd Salmon, so Catharine was told.

The crystal gazer became weary after this strenuous visit into the future, but Catharine contented and comforted with the fact that her former class mates were all doing so well, went on her way in search of more material to complete her latest book, "India Today."

We feel that the success of this part of the banquet was due, not only to the banquet committee, consisting of Marie Kirschner, chairman, Doris Bye, Thelma Collett, and Donovan Lewis, but to the mothers of the Junior class, who so willingly gave of their time and effort to give us a delicious banquet.

Following the banquet the following interesting program was arranged by Genevieve Carss, with Edward Pehl, president of the class, as able toastmaster.

The Junior-Senior banquet from every point of view was a beautiful and happy event and one long to be remembered by Ellendale High.

MEMBERS OF HONOR

SOCIETY FOR 1930

The following have been chosen by the High school faculty as members of the National Honor Society from the Senior and Junior classes of this year. From the Senior class: Catharine Barta, Lola Crandell, Maynard Oliason, Jennie Graham, and Marian Lewis. From the Junior class: Helen Maercklein, and Wayne Hill.

SENIOR CLASS PICNIC

The Seniors will hold their class picnic in the hills today. The committees have worked hard to make this an enjoyable occasion. It is the first picnic we have had during our 4 years in high school, and there is no reason why we should not enjoy ourselves thoroughly.

and Edna Layer, and Kenneth Johnson. We were still the largest class in high school and we were proud of it.

Again we exercised our eagerness for speedy organization and elected officers: Jennie Graham, president; Russell Wenkstern, vicepresident; Frances Carpenter, secretary-treasurer and Mr. Christie, class advisor.

After weeks of planning and preparing we gave a Hard Time Party. Everyone came in "hard time" dress. Myron Jury and Edna Layer received prizes for the best costumes. All voted the party a great success.

During the Sophomore year the boys began work in athletics. Walter Schmierer and Myron Jury began to do good work in foot ball, and Walter promised to become outstanding in basket ball and track. Jennie Graham and Marguerite Jorgensen were members of the Cardinal staff. Monica Wentzel and Russell Wenkstern represented the class in the local Declamation contest.

In the fall of 1928 we became very grown up Juniors with much pull, push, and ambition. Five new members joined our class again this year: Lola Crandell, Roscoe Ladd, Clifford Skoglund, Ella Hansen and Bernice Dickinson. The following officers were chosen for the year: Harry Witte, president; Jennie Graham, vicepresident; Florence Pederson, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Onsrud, our principal, became our advisor.

This year was a busy one in class work and extra curricular activities. Edna Layer was editor of the High school department in The Dickey County Leader. She also represented the high school in the joint program with the N. I. during education week.

Both boys and girls did fine work in athletics during our Junior year; Walter Schmierer, Myron Jury and Harry Witte did outstanding work in foot ball. Walter also distinguished himself in Basket ball and track. The Junior girls' basket ball team won the inter-class contest, defeating the Sophomores and Seniors.

Edna Layer represented the high school in the Constitutional Oratorical contest at Valley City. Russell Wenkstern took part in the Senior Class Play. Lola Crandell won the inter-class Declamation contest and represented Ellendale at the N. I. contest.

Marguerite Jorgensen, Edna Layer, and Jennie Graham were members of the Microphone staff.

The first great event of the season of the Junior year was the Class Play, "Cyclone Sally," given on two nights. We think that it was the best Junior Play ever given.

Then came the Junior-Senior banquet, the main event of the season. This event was one that enabled the class to show its cleverness, originality, co-operation and tact and to display its ability as financial wizards, to stretch the funds over a number of novel ideas. The gymnasium was beautifully and elaborately decorated in blue and silver, the Senior Class colors.

At last the Juniors became a group of dignified seniors. The seats on the north side of the assembly were ours at last. The officers chosen were: Edna Layer, president; Jennie Graham, vicepresident; and Florence Pederson, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Ingvalson was given the task of class advisor.

Since the separation of the Junior and Senior High school it was thought unfair to initiate the Freshmen; the highest class in Junior High. Therefore the present Senior class very generously decided to forego the pleasure of initiating the Freshmen.

But being very bloodthirsty and eager for revenge, we also decided that someone must suffer. It fell to the Sophomores, who held the lowest rank in Senior high, to be the victims. Accordingly on October 11, the Sophs were given a mild initiation. Usual implements of terror were used, and then they were sent to the shelter of their happy homes after having been commanded to grow up.

Thus a new tradition will take the place of the old one in regard to initiation.

In March our time was fully occupied in preparing for a second annual Spizerinctum carnival, which we planned to make the biggest event of its kind that we had ever undertaken. Under the direction of Miss Edwards and the Camp Fire Girls everyone worked long and hard and our efforts were crowned with success. The gate receipts far exceeded our wildest expectations and we were made doubly happy when the Senior candidate, Florence Pederson, was chosen Carnival Queen.

Next came the Senior play "The Laughing Guest," which was a howling success.

The Seniors have been well represented in athletics this year. The Senior boys on the foot ball team were Harry Witte, Walter Schmierer, Ivan Thompson, Eugene Chute, and Russell Wenkstern. Walter, Harry, and Eugene also played a successful role in basket ball. Walter has been the only Senior boy to display his manly efforts in track. He was one of the representatives to the State Track Meet at Grand Forks, which was held May 16 and 17.

Marian Lewis, Florence Pederson, Jennie Graham, Harry Witte, Ivan

Thompson, Russell Wenkstern, and Maynard Oliason are members of the Cardinal staff.

Lola Crandell won first place in the inter-class Declamation contest in March and represented us in the District Contest held here on April 25.

Some of the outside of school activities that members of the Senior Class helped to make successful were "Betty Lou," "Aunt Lucia," and "Corporal Egan."

THE GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves held the last meeting of the year Wednesday, May 21. At this meeting the second year Junior High girls were invited to be present, since they will become members of the organization next year.

Officers for next year were elected in order that work might begin immediately upon the opening of school. The following girls will serve: Marie Kirschner, president; Ruth Radthe, vicepresident; and Eloise Hafner, secretary-treasurer.

At this meeting two talks were given. Marion Brown spoke on the care of the hair and Thelma Collett on the care of the skin.

This meeting closed a year of very active work by the organization. Most of the meetings have been round table discussions at which members have thought through and given their opinions on questions of manners and conduct. These discussions will culminate next year in the drawing up of a code for Ellendale High school girls.

A constitution has also been framed and will be presented to the organization for its approval at the first meeting next year.

It is the aim of the Girl Reserves to have women of the community help them and to take part in the discussions from time to time. This year, Mrs. Heckman, Miss Bess Oerke of the N. I., and Miss Edythe Hablutzel have given very helpful talks.

HI-Y HOLDS PICNIC

The last meeting of the Hi-Y club was held in the form of a picnic at Flemington's grove. The picnic was attended not only by Hi-Y members but by a number of other high school boys who had been invited to be present.

A very closely contested game of kitten ball was played. It never became known just which side won out.

After "eats" had been given due consideration the boys gathered in a group seated on the ground, and listened to a very interesting talk on vocation by Mr. Heckman of the N. I. faculty. Mr. Heckman is a thorough student of the subject and his talk was informing and thought provoking. The club will want to see more of Mr. Heckman next year.

WILL, WORK, WIN!IS CLASS VALEDICTORY

the world a better place for men to live in. The driving force that caused them to organize great expeditions, to carry on extensive researches, to establish schools and hospitals was not centered on selfish gain, nor was it a place in history or a crown in the hall of fame that they sought, but rather was it the welfare of all humanity. That is where the line is drawn between "great" men and "little" men. Living examples of such men are Edison and Charles Lindburg. A still greater example is the immortal Lincoln who willed not for himself, but for his people. And Lincoln looked to a still greater man, Christ Jesus, who bestowed peace and good will to the world.

So the will we have in mind is the "good will" which Christ Jesus exemplified in his life and teachings, and this is the "will" which forces the individual to develop the best in himself and to bring and give most freely and abundantly to his fellow men.

And now to proceed to the second thought of our motto—Work. Will is the sense of vision of an unlimited plan. Work is the developing of our part in the plan. Win is the realization, or consciousness, of success that we receive.

"The greatest genius God ever gave man is the genius of work. Work is the blessing that keeps the world in harmony and brings knowledge to men. To quote Sir Walter Scott: 'As for knowledge it can no more be planted in the human mind without labor than a field of wheat can be produced without the use of the plow.' Idleness is a curse and brings desolation, depression and decay.

Perfection in work is art whether it be the humble gardener striving to perfect his small plot of vegetables or Gutzon Borglum carving Mt. Rushmore. Perfection comes through doing the work that is suited to each individual and doing that work well. That is what makes each work an art, and the "great will" can inspire to infinite effort.

If we find our task in the great pattern of life and do our task as perfectly as we can, it will bring joy and true development. The arts of music, painting and literature are expressions of man's joy in his work. Joy also comes from doing everyday work perfectly.

It may be truly said that no man does any work perfectly who does not enjoy his work. Joy in one's work is the consummate tool without which the work may be done, indeed, but without its finest perfection. Men who do their work without enjoying it are like men carving statues with hatchets. A man who does his work with thorough enjoyment of it is like an artist who holds an exquisite tool, which is almost as obedient to him as his own hand and works intelligently with him.

Nature gives us fine examples of purposeful, harmonious, joyful activity.

Listen to the mystery

Of bee clans singing—

Merchantmen winging,

Argosies bringing,

Nuggets that are odorous,

Golden, sunny.

Listen to the mystery

Of bees making history

In Geometric figures

Of amber honey.

(Late Summer)

Hear the heavy murmur

Of bee clans summing,

Steadily strumming,

For the end is coming,

The page is nearly written,

The chapter done.

Hear the low murmur,

Patient now and firmer,

Trafficking is over—

The honey won.

Will, Work, and Win! Will is an inspiring vision giving us a strong incentive for our life task, Work is making practical that vision, and Win is the fruit of the labor. There are many kinds of winning: power, fame and wealth, but the greatest winning is a consciousness of satisfaction in a thing well done, a winning such as Kipling writes of in his verse:

And only the Master shall praise us,

And only the Master shall blame,

And no one shall work for money,

And no one shall work for fame,

But each for the joy of working,

And each in his separate star,

Shall draw the thing as he sees it,

For the God of Things as They are!

The Class Will

uphold it forever, with all seriousness and gravity, endeavoring to realize its vast importance, in spite of their natural light-mindedness and irresponsibility.

3rd and last comes the one thing hard for us to part with. To our successors we must leave our places in the hearts and thoughts of our superintendent and teachers. They will love them, unworthy as we feel they are, even as they have loved us; they will show them all the same tender kindness and attention that they have bestowed upon us; they will feel the same interest in their attempts and successes; the same sorrow when they fail. We trust that the Class of 1931 will appreciate all this as deeply as we have done, that it may be their most precious possession, as it has been ours, and the one we are most loath to hand over to them.

All the rest and residue of our property, whatsoever and wheresoever, of what nature, kind and quality soever it may be, and not herein disposed of (after paying our debts and funeral expenses), we give and bequeath to our beloved Superintendent, for his use and benefit absolutely, and to be disposed of for the good of the coming classes as he may see fit.

And we do hereby constitute and appoint the said Superintendent sole executor of this our last will and testament.

In witness whereof, We, the Class of 1930, the testators, have to this our will, written on one sheet of parchment, set our hands and seal this twenty-seventh day of May, Anno Domini, one thousand nine hundred and 30.

FAREWELL E. H. S.

To dear old Ellendale High School,

We bid a sad adieu,

For the Class of 1930

Will soon be gone from you.

We'll have many pleasant memories

Of good old days gone by,

Memories that we'll cherish,

And think of with a sigh.

I'm sure that everyone of us

Has been loyal and true to you,

In our work, our play, our studies

And all else we've tried to do.

We have struggled here for four long years

With tasks both great and small;

Now dear old Hi, we give a cheer,

We've conquered one and all.

We wish to thank our teachers

For their help and kindness,

And ask them to forgive us,

For our thoughtless carelessness.

And we hope our lower classmen

Will be loyal and true to you,

And stand behind you, dear old Hi,

As we have tried to do.

Good bye, old Ellendale High School;

In our memory you'll not die.

Here's a cheer for everyone of you

In good old Ellendale Hi.

—PANZY GALLACHER.

Last Friday marked the end of the regular school for the year. On Monday and Tuesday the final examinations were given. Report cards and credits will be issued Thursday afternoon.
